Britain Demands An Explanation

Takes Serious View of Arrest of Capt. T. Kendrick in Vienna

FULL INQUIRY IS PROMISED

LONDON (CP Cable)—Sir Neville Henderson, British Ambassador to Berlin, has been instructed to inform the German Foreign Minister the British Government takes a "serious view" of the arrest of Capt. Thomas Kendrick. The British Government expects a "full and speedy explanation."

Sir Neville in an interview yesterday asked the German Foreign Minister to let him have all particulars of the charge against Capt. Kendrick, official of the British passport office in Vienna.

The ministry promised an immediate and full inquiry. It was hoped in London representations made in Berlin would lead to his release.

Capt. Kendrick has been the passport controller at Vienna for 13 years. He was arrested while motoring to England on leave.

Capt. Kendrick was believed held in the Hotel Metropole, secret police headquarters in Vienna. In Foreign Office circles here there was some speculation as to whether he might have been arrested because he granted more British visas to Austrian Jews than the German government considered discreet.

Another suggestion was that he might have been held because his passport gave him his wartime rank of captain and he had failed to convince the German police that he was not on active service.

LEAVES LONDON

Prime Minister Chamberlain left London for a week-end at Chequers, his official country home, after seeing a brief summary of Insurgent General Franco's reply to the British plan for getting foreign soldiers out of the Spanish war.

However, it was said the summary was not "sufficiently comprehensive" to permit its publication. Informed persons declined to say whether the reply was favorable or not.

The Kendrick arrest caused a sensation in London government circles. British reserve officers were warned last week they had to have special certificates to "avoid trouble" if they go to Germany, which forbids foreign soldiers to travel over certain border areas.

Kendrick was arrested Wednesday when he crossed the border at Freilassing, Bavaria, en route to England with his wife for a vacation. He was returned to secret police headquarters in Vienna, but Mrs. Kendrick was permitted to go to her home in Vienna.

It was surmised Kendrick's route might have been through frontier territory and areas designed for German military manoeuvres. Another theory was that Nazi officials did not appreciate Kendrick's jokes and political anecdotes for which he was known in English and American colonies in Vienna.

Fleager Golf Champion

Seattle Veteran Defeats Hon. John Hart 2 and 1 in Final For Grand Championship of Seniors at Colwood Course

H. A. (Dixie) Fleager, Seattle, is the new grand champion of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association. In the 18-hole final at the Colwood Club this morning Fleager defeated Hon. John Hart, Victoria, 2 and 1, after one of the keenest finals in the history of the tournament.

Fleager succeeds Bernie Schwengers, Victoria, as titleholder, and takes the crown to the United States for the first time in four years.

Hart got off badly, losing the first three holes. On the first he had a 7 to Fleager's 5. Three putts cost Hart the second. At the third he got into more trouble and wound up with another 7, while Fleager was down in 5.

Hart's par 3 won him the fourth. Sinking an 18-foot putt Fleager took the fifth to be 3 up again. A trap cost Fleager the sixth and par 3 at the seventh for Hart, won him the hole and he was only 1 down. The eighth and ninth holes were halved in five and four, leaving Fleager 1 up at the turn.

SQUARES MATCH
Continuing his comeback Hart took the 10th to square the match. The 11th saw Hart in the lead for the first time when he got down in three to Fleager's four. Another lapse in putting cost Hart the 12th and the pair were all even. The 13th was halved in five.

Big Air Raid On Barcelona

General Insurgent Offensive on Loyalist Capital Reported

HENDAYE France (AP)—Spanish insurgents closed the French frontier and looted a heavy air raid on Barcelona today in preparation for a general offensive.

Insurgent military leaders confirmed that General Franco himself would lead a new drive. Vign, former chief of staff of the northern insurgent army, chief of his personal staff.

Insurgent sources said they expected the offensive would be directed against Catalonia, possibly coupled with a simultaneous drive against besieged Madrid.

The goal of the campaign apparently was to end the civil war before it reaches its third winter. A number of insurgent officers who have been on leave were recalled to duty effective Aug. 21. Insurgents said they bombed Barcelona three times between dawn and noon today. Reports reaching the border said 20 persons were killed and 100 wounded.

The bombing of Barcelona and reports the insurgents were preparing a heavy new offensive followed charges large numbers of Italian troops and quantities of war material recently have been sent to Franco.

The British Embassy in Rome has drawn "attention" of the Fascist government to these charges.

Salmon Prices Are Settled

Canners Agree to Pay Same Price as Last Year for Sockeye

Salmon prices to be paid fishermen in coastal waters this year were fixed today despite the sudden breakdown of arbitration proceedings in Vancouver yesterday.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Commissioner of Fisheries, announced this morning that following his negotiations with canners and fishermen had agreed to accept a basic price of 42½ cents for sockeye in Rivers Inlet, Namu and Bella Bella, and 47½ cents in Smith's Inlet, Skeena and Nass Rivers. This is the same price as last year.

The settlement came after arbitration reached a deadlock and Mr. Justice Murphy resigned as chairman of the arbitration board.

The price agreed upon was the last offer made by the fishermen. The canners' last offer was 2½ cents lower but they have now agreed to meet the fishermen's price.

Pitched Battle In Palestine

65 Dead and Hundreds Wounded in 2 Days of Conflict

JERUSALEM (CP)—A fresh clash between Great Britain's Irish Guards and Scotsmen of the Black Watch and an Arab guerrilla band today brought the casualty list for two days of conflict to 65 dead and hundreds wounded.

Today's conflict occurred on the Plain of Sharon and followed closely yesterday's battle on the outskirts of Acre. The two days' fighting was the heaviest the Holy Land has seen in the current disorders, which became serious July 5.

Sixty Arabs were killed—fifty near Acre and at least 10 in the Sharon battle—and hundreds wounded in the two engagements, while five British soldiers lost their lives. Thirteen Britons were wounded.

The Sharon battle started near Kalyieh, an Arab centre, when a patrol of the Irish Guards was ambushed and a British army motor truck damaged when it passed over a land mine.

Detachments of the Black Watch joined the skirmish after the Guards had deployed and were fired for aircraft and other reinforcements.

One flying officer and one air-craftsman of the Royal Flying Corps were killed when a plane, answering the call for help, crashed near the scene of the battle.

One Irish Guardsman was killed and a sergeant and four Guardsmen were wounded in the Sharon fight. Two British soldiers were killed and eight wounded at Acre.

The latter fighting started after a heavily-armed Arab band in the hills sniped at a column of the Manchester Regiment returning from a punitive expedition.

British planes, flying low with their machine guns blazing, drove the Arabs deeper into the hills.

The R.A.F. men killed were Flight Officer R. C. Waddell and Pte. R. Jennings. Pte. G. Griffith of the Irish Guards and Sgt-Major John Currie and Pte. William Harper of the Manchester Regiment were the other British fatalities. Major G. L. Usher of the Manchester Regiment was among the wounded.

Euler Is Busy In London

Canadian Minister Interviews Trade Commissioners

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Hon. W. D. Euler, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, today spent the first few hours of his visit to London interviewing trade commissioners at Canada House. Sunday he will motor to Glasgow to inspect the Canadian pavilion at the Empire Exhibition.

The minister is making a study of Canadian government advertising in Great Britain, which was recently transferred to his department. One of his purposes in going to Glasgow is to attempt to improve the Canadian exhibition for the New York World's Fair of 1939.

He expects to spend two weeks on the continent before returning to Canada.

Concessions Made By Czechoslovakia

Choice of Political Posts Conceded in Attempt to Pacify Sudetens

PRAHA (CP)—Premier Milan Hodza today disclosed the Czechoslovak government would give choice political positions in an attempt to pacify its autonomy-seeking Sudeten German minority.

The premier made the disclosure in a conference with Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator in the troublesome minority issue. It was announced in a communique issued by Lord Runciman's staff.

Lord Runciman's conference with Hodza followed his meeting for the first time yesterday with Konrad Henlein, leader of the 3,500,000 Nazi-supported Sudeten Germans. Some quarters believed their interview might have found a way for softening the Sudeten Germans' insistent demands.

Seven postmasterships in larger communities—including Bodenbach, Asch and Rumburg—are to be given the Sudeten Germans.

From their ranks, it was said, also would be selected the chief of overseas—who directs public works—at Bruenn, district governors at Asch, Trautenau, and possibly other communities, and more employees of the railroad administration.

BASIS FOR NEGOTIATION
A member of the British mission said these were concessions of a "positive, specific nature which form a substantial basis for negotiations with the Sudeten German opposition."

The concessions were regarded as the first tangible fruit of British mediation into the dispute between the government and the minority.

The communique said Lord Runciman had been informed by the Czechoslovak premier that seven high positions in the country's postal services had been set aside for Sudeten Germans and would be filled without delay.

The Ministry of Interior shortly will appoint Sudeten German governors in Asch and Trutnov districts while other governorships will be given Germans at a later date. Naming of a German as president of the district court of Cheb by the Justice Ministry will be discussed at the next cabinet meeting, the communique added.

It asserted that Viscount Runciman expects to be informed shortly of steps to give positions to Sudeten Germans in the railways and finance departments of the government.

The communique concluded with an expression of appreciation by Lord Runciman of the fact that Premier Hodza had seen fit to announce to him in advance these important concessions.

Lord Runciman was received by Hodza at noon and observers presumed he would lose no time in informing the Czechoslovak premier of this conversation with Konrad Henlein. The first meeting between Lord Runciman and the Sudeten German party leader took place yesterday at Rothenhaus Castle, home of Prince Max of Hohenlohe.

Cause of Death Undetermined

Post Mortem Fails to Indicate How Walter Vibert Died

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A post mortem examination failed today to establish definitely the cause of the death of Walter Vibert, 46, assistant San Francisco Federal Housing Authority director, and former resident of Victoria, B.C., who died in a hotel room last week.

Two men, charged with manslaughter in connection with Vibert's death, were arrested after others who attended a party in his room, said they engaged in a fight with the F.H.A. official.

The examination conducted by Sherman Leland, autopsy surgeon, and Dr. Jesse Carr, pathologist, disclosed Vibert had a deterioration of certain blood vessels in the brain.

The doctors said, however, the fatal hemorrhage might have resulted either from a blow or from a sudden rush of blood to the head because of excitement.

Coroner T. B. W. Leland said he would conduct an inquest next Tuesday.

British Vessel Sunk By Bombs

Ss. Stanbrook Victim of Air Raiders at Valcarca

LONDON (AP)—The Spanish (government) press agency today reported Spanish insurgent warplanes bombed and sank the 1,363-ton British freighter Stanbrook, the second ship owned by the same company attacked today by insurgent raiders.

The agency said the Stanbrook sank in the port of Valcarca, 25 miles south of Barcelona on Spain's Mediterranean coast, after a bombardment by five Savoia (Italian type) planes.

Earlier the 2,600-ton Stanforth wireless she was "deliberately bombed" at sea off Barcelona while en route to Oran, Algeria. She was not damaged.

Both vessels belonged to the Stanhope Shipping Company.

No casualties were reported on either ship.

Japan Calling Up Recruits

All Men Between Ages of 20 and 34 Ordered to Stand By

TOKIO (AP)—The Japanese government acted today to make quickly available an estimated 1,000,000 more men for its fighting forces, as negotiations with Soviet Russia for settlement of the Siberian frontier dispute reached a new stalemate.

A new order by the War Office simply instructed all males in the recruit division, made up of men between 20 and 34 who have not received active training, to "stand by."

This was taken to indicate they might be called soon and Japan was planning to throw huge numbers of reinforcements into what would be a grand drive to end the war in China.

The Foreign Office spokesman made known conferences in Moscow and Tokio had failed to reach agreement on selection of a joint commission to fix the Siberian-Korean frontier in the vicinity of Changkufeng.

Extension Is Not Involved

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—President Roosevelt indicated today no extension of the Monroe Doctrine was involved in his address at Kingston, Ont. yesterday.

The President suggested his questioners read the original language of the Monroe Doctrine. He called attention to the fact he had not said anything about Latin America in his Kingston talk.

Poll Probable On Trustee Vacancy

Holding of a by-election to fill the vacancy on the City School Board created by the death of the late Trustee John Wallace, will be considered during the next few days by School Board and City Council officials.

Official notification of the vacancy will be sent by the board to the council next Tuesday evening, at the board's next meeting, and further action will rest with the council.

Under the School Act the council is required to set a date for a by-election within 30 days. Failing this the School Board will name someone to fill the seat for the remainder of the unexpired term which runs to December, 1939.

It is generally believed the council will set a by-election date rather than have the trustees name a member of the board.

FRANCO'S REPLY SENT TO LONDON

LONDON (CP Cable)—Insurgent General Franco's reply to the British plan for the withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain is being rushed to London by plane amid conflicting rumors of its nature. It was handed to Sir Robert Hodgson, British agent, at Burgos Tuesday.

In the absence of official interpretation, reports continued to circulate today the reply is either a downright refusal or has so many conditions it amounts to the same thing.

When the reply is translated copies will be sent to Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, at his home in Yorkshire, and the Earl of Plymouth, chairman of the Nonintervention Committee.

Ban 200 Miles To Island Hunters

NANAIMO (CP) — Hunters will be barred from nearly 200 square miles in the northern section of Vancouver Island this season if a resolution recommended to the British Columbia Game Board by the Nanaimo Fish and Game Association is carried out.

The prohibition would apply to that section which was burned out by the giant forest fire which swept south 40 miles from Menzies Bay last month.

The boundaries of the proposed restricted area would be from Rock Bay to the northwest corner of Strathcona Park on the north, Puntledge River to Comox Lake on the south, and to the summit of Beaufort Range on the west.

According to James Cunningham, commissioner of the board, the loss of game, especially birds, has been enormous.

Campaign Thunder, View of Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A spokesman of the German Foreign Office expressed the opinion today that President Roosevelt's speech at Kingston, Ont., yesterday was campaign thunder on which "any German comment becomes unnecessary."

"Political circles do not propose to comment," he said. "We have the definite impression that it is only one of those propaganda speeches which are frequent occurrences now before the Senate and House elections."

Hepburn Gives His Reasons

Opposed to St. Lawrence Waterways on "Economic" Grounds

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Mitchell Hepburn told Prime Minister Mackenzie King in a letter made public today the Ontario government opposed the proposed St. Lawrence Waterways project on "economic" grounds.

The letter was sent today, less than 24 hours after President Franklin Roosevelt urged at the opening yesterday of an international bridge at Ivy Lea across the St. Lawrence, the early development of the river by the United States and Canadian governments to provide increased electric power and shipping facilities.

Premier Hepburn's letter reads as follows:

My Dear Prime Minister: Sometime ago you sent me a copy of a communication addressed to your government by the Department of State at Washington, having to do with the St. Lawrence Waterways project. The communication was read with considerable interest but as the document itself was addressed to your government and you forwarded a copy to this administration, without comment and inasmuch as ample time has elapsed now for you to give sufficient study to the problem, I would like to know what your policy is, if any, and should you have a policy, what proposal have you to submit to this government for consideration?

In so far as power requirements are concerned, the fact is well known to you that Ontario has an ample supply for many years to come—indeed, a huge surplus—for which it must pay and receive no benefit. This unsatisfactory condition would not obtain at this moment had you granted us, when you had the opportunity, the right to export this surplus at a profit which would have enabled us in turn to grant a further reduction in rates to the power consumers of Ontario. It is the responsibility of this administration and not yours to provide the necessary power for our present and future requirements and in this respect we are fully cognizant of our responsibility.

I have on various occasions ventured the opinion that the St. Lawrence waterways project could not be justified on economic grounds. Our interests are confined to power, but nevertheless as the keystone province of the Dominion, we are also interested in the railway situation which has not been improved since you have been head of the administration at Ottawa. Until such time as you solve what is considered to be one of the major problems of Canada—that of the national railway deficits—I cannot conceive how you could seriously consider spending public funds for the purpose of creating another public, competitive avenue of transportation which would undoubtedly have the effect of further increasing the deficits of the Canadian National Railways, furnishing a further threat to the security of the employment of the railway men of Canada, even to the extent of placing more people on our already overburdened relief lists; and endangering the very credit of the Dominion, the provinces and the municipalities.

No one has yet been able to estimate with any degree of accuracy the cost of this entire project but I do know, according to a memorandum submitted to me by Dr. Thomas Hogg, chairman of the Hydro-electric Power Commission of Ontario, that under the old agreement Ontario was obligated to pay as its share a sum varying between $62,000,000 and $73,000,000 (not including the cost of interest).

Irrespective of any propaganda or squeeze play that might be concocted by you, you may rest assured that this government will resist any effort to force us to expend public funds in such an unwarranted manner or to foist upon the people of Ontario an additional burden of debt and taxation.

Yours truly,
M. F. HEPBURN.

Battle Over Will

CHICAGO (AP) — William Horlick Sidley opened a legal battle today to break the will of his mother, the malted milk heiress.

Attorney William P. Sidley of Chicago, an uncle of young Sidley, announced the firm's Racine, Wis., representative, Mortimer Walker, had been instructed to file today objections to the admission to probate of Mrs. Sidley's will.

Mrs. Maybelle Horlick Sidley died July 6 in the Toronto home of W. Perkins Bull, financier and attorney. Her will, which was drawn up April 8, bequeathed Bull $250,000 and a third interest in her residual estate, after other bequests were fulfilled. Similar provisions were made for William H. Sidley, her only son.

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — Seventh case of infantile paralysis in Trail was reported today by Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer. The patient was a young man brought into Trail-Tadnac hospital yesterday.

All cases were progressing "very well," the doctor said. Three will be sent to their homes.

To Draft Citizens For Air Training

BERLIN (AP) — A new Nazi regulation provided today all citizens may be drafted for civil air defence training.

Men who have served in the army were included. The purpose of the order is to augment membership in the Air Defence League, which trains Germans in performing specific duties in case of air raids.

In other ways, too, preparations for Germany's biggest military manoeuvres since World War days impinged constantly on the German's normal life.

Because of the inadequacy of other accommodations, schoolhouses in many districts were commandeered to house reserves called for drilling and fundamentals and modern military advances preliminary to participating in regular army exercises next month.

FIVE ENTOMBED MINERS RESCUED

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Five miners, entombed in the Shawnee Coal Company Mine, were rescued last night and rushed immediately to a hospital. They were found to be suffering from shock.

Rescuers reached the men about five hours after they had been trapped by a runaway mine car, loaded with rock, which smashed timbers, causing the roof to collapse and block the entrance to the slope.

FARMERS PLEASED BY WHEAT PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prairie farmers are drawing an optimistic picture from wheat prices set by the Dominion Government for grades other than No. 1 northern sold to the Canadian Wheat Board. The government-set prices for wheat delivered at Fort William were higher than those prevailing on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange cash wheat section at the final gong yesterday.

The fairly general satisfaction which greeted the government announcement Tuesday night was mixed with criticism from Manitoba, the great durum-growing province, because of the figures on durum varieties.

Robert Gardiner, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, considered the government announcement "very reasonable," but he added the prices appeared "pretty close to milling values."

Paul Bredt, president of Manitoba Pool Elevators Limited, felt, however, that though the prices generally were satisfactory there was a widespread between No. 1 northern, set previously at 80 cents a bushel, and No. 1 amber durum.

"Presumably the board price for No. 1 amber durum of 70 cents has been set on last year's discount which represented unusual conditions," he said.

The prairie wheat crop is rolling into the elevators for the wheat board although the elevator companies and the board are operating so far under a provisional arrangement, W. P.

Grindley, board secretary, explained.

Persistent rains and rust combined with grasshoppers and the wet harvest period will produce numerous grades of wheat this year compared with last, when at the end of August more than 83 per cent of the wheat crop graded No. 3 northern or better, Mr. Grindley said.

He also explained the adverse weather during this time was inclined to affect rust-resistant Thatcher variety, which turned pale and dropped from top gradings.

Australia Gains Cup Tennis Final

BROOKLINE, Mass. — Australia today won the right to oppose the United States for the Davis Cup when its tennis doubles combination of Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich overwhelmed Germany's Henner Henkel and George von Metaxa, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4, in exactly one hour at Longwood Cricket Club.

14 KILLED IN ITALIAN CRASH

VARESE, Italy (AP) — Fourteen persons were killed today in Italy's fourth civil air disaster of the year when a seaplane fell shortly after taking off from this Italian-Swiss border town. The plane was owned by the Macchi Aircraft Construction Company and was piloted by Giuseppe Pirelli, the company's chief trial pilot and holder of a number of seaplane flying records.

The prefect of Varese, Mario Chies, and members of his family were among the victims of the crash in the big twin-motored ship, which crashed all its occupants to their death during a sightseeing flight over the town.

The accident brought to 66 the number of persons killed this year in Italy's four major civil aviation crashes.

Newspaper Faces Contempt Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Times must face trial August 25 on five of seven charges of contempt lodged against the newspaper by the Bar Association, growing out of editorial comment on cases pending in court.

Superior Judge Emmet Wilson yesterday sustained the Times' demurrers to two of the allegations, but ordered trial upon the other five, remarking that he considered liberty of the press subordinate to the independence of the judiciary.

Skeleton of Lost Man Discovered

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—Disappearance of W. E. Losch, retired Portland, Ore., business man, on a fishing trip last year was solved today with the discovery of a skeleton in Trinity River.

Sheriff Arthur A. Ross, said the skeleton, with Losch's automobile driver's license nearby, was found a few feet from Losch's car. The wrecked car, half buried, was found by children.

To Preview End of World

Franklin Institute
Planetarium Invites Prophets of Doom

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Franklin Institute's Planetarium cordially invites prophets of doom to a special preview of the end of the world.

With scientific zeal, Planetarium officials sought today to round up half-a-dozen of the gloomy fellows and give them a glimpse of the calamity they periodically predict is at hand.

Projections of what the super-disaster may look like—if there's anyone left to look—were arranged for the night of August 30. There are to be hot and cold waves, thunderstorms, earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and explosion of the moon—with sound effects.

The Planetarium will send an official today to Precept, L.I., where dwells "apostle of doom," Robert Reid, waiting impatiently for a Judgment Day 13 years overdue—according to Reid's calculations.

This pessimist predicted the world would come to an end at midnight, February, 1923. Two persons committed suicide to escape the horror of it all. When Reid's prophecy blew up instead of the earth, he blamed photographers' flashlights.

The Planetarium also seeks Prof. Albert Porta of San Francisco, who set December 17, 1919, for the calamity to end all calamities.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva of Zion, Ill., most renowned of the prophets of destruction, is invited too. Voliva, it may be remembered, predicted seven years ago that the world "will go boom," like a firecracker, on September 10, 1934. He corrected himself on September 11, 1934, and postponed the awful event to September 10, 1942.

Operators of the Planetarium projector promised realistic demonstrations of what would happen if planets collided, if the sun got hotter or colder, or if the moon blew up.

Charge Officials Are Communistic

WASHINGTON (CP)—Representative Mason (Republican, Illinois) a member of the House of Representatives committee investigating subversive activities in the United States, named eight government officials as "acknowledged members" of the American League for Peace and Democracy, which he said had connections with the communist party.

The officials named were Harry Lambertson, assistant rural electrification administrator; Dallas
W. Smythe, of the central statistical board; Fred Silcox, head of the forest service; Robert Marshall, an official of the public lands service of the Agriculture Department; Oscar Chapman, Assistant Secretary of the Interior; John Carmody, rural electrification administrator; Mary Anderson, director of the women's bureau, and Alice Barrows, in the office of education.

Smythe, who said he was vice-president of the American League for Democracy and Peace, said
"it is a matter of common knowledge that our organization is not Communist and our records are always available for proof."

PRAIRIE WHEAT REPORTED SPOTTY

WINNIPEG (CP)—While admitting serious damage by grass hoppers and rust to the Canadian wheat crop, Paul Brett, president of Manitoba Pool Elevators Ltd., said the situation was "so spotty"
it was difficult to tell the outcome.

In commenting on the reports of B. W. Snow, Chicago expert, who told of tremendous rust damage to Marquis wheat and estimated the crop as low as 295, 000,000 bushels, Mr. Brett said:
"Of course, when he talks of the three prairie provinces and Marquis, he must yet see Alberta.
There is such damage in Manitoba and Saskatchewan but it does not apply to Alberta. When he places the crop at 295,000,000, well, all I can say is we've been figuring on 325,000,000."

"There has been tremendous damage from grasshoppers and rust, but the situation is so spotty no one can tell what it's going to be."

Wants Inquiry Into Charges

Fruit Brokerage
Head Replies to Combine Claims

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—R. B.
Staples, president of Sales Service
Ltd., replied today to charges by Vernon district growers that a combine exists in the marketing of fruits and vegetables in western Canada.

The head of the wholesale fruit brokerage house said in part:

"I feel that in view of the serious charges which have been made, it is essential that an inquiry should be held, and that it will be desirable to leave any answer to the charges to the proper time.

"Just at present, the most important matter by far is to avoid a disruption of the market which might be caused by our failure to sell the 800 cars which each year are marketed through my organization in the three western provinces.

"It is fairly obvious that any such disruption at the opening of the market might lead to a major disaster, not only to the growers marketing through the Sales Service Ltd., but to all the growers of the Okanagan Valley."

Referring to organizations attacked by the Vernon growers, Mr. Staples said, "They have the reputation, and rightly so, of being the most important wholesale factor in maintaining retail price of British Columbia fruits and vegetables in the markets where they operate.

"During the period to which
Mr. Isaac's statement refers, prices of British Columbia products have for the most part been set by a committee consisting of the British Columbia Tree Fruits Board and three more shippers' representatives." (Godfrey Isaacs, Oyma grower, made charges that a combine existed in a meeting at Vernon Tuesday night.)

Mussolini Inspects Italy's Stronghold

ROME (AP)—Premier Mussolini yesterday made a flying inspection of Italy's new Mediterranean stronghold, Pantelleria Island, which flanks a British Empire lifeline.

Some foreign circles considered the flight as intended to impress Great Britain and France with Italy's armed strength in the Mediterranean.

Flying his own bombing plane at 180 miles an hour for the 700-mile round trip, Il Duce was back in Rome in time for lunch.

The fortification of Pantelleria as an air base at the point where Mediterranean shipping lanes pass through the 100-mile wide bottle-neck between Italian Sicily and French Tunisia, would tend,
in the opinion of some observers, to offset Britain's control from Malta.

The newspaper "Tribuna" said,
"a powerful stronghold has been constituted, where so often has been concentrated the curiosity of those who fear our indomitable Mediterranean power."

CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY CUT

HONGKONG (AP)—Japan's persistent air bombing campaign against the Canton-Hankow railway today appeared for the first time to have put that vital line of supply for China's armies out of commission, at least temporarily.

There has been no passenger service between Canton, China's southern metropolis, and Hankow, the provisional capital, for the last 10 days, and now, as far as can be learned, no military trains are getting through.

"Sub-stratosphere" Planes for Britain

LONDON (AP)—Production of "sub-stratosphere" bombing planes for the Air Ministry is expected to start in the summer of 1940. The planes will weigh 70-000 pounds and their four engines will speed them along at 275 miles an hour at 25,000 feet. A pressure cabin will shield the crew.

Seek Uniform Company Law

Bar Association Hears of Work to Unify Dominion and Provincial Statutes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Progress of efforts to draw up a uniform company law that would be acceptable to the Dominion and each province was described yesterday by R. Andrew Smith, K.C., of Edmonton. He spoke to a sectional meeting of the Canadian Bar Association on comparative provincial legislation and law reform.

Throughout the afternoon the association's annual convention was divided into a group of sectional meetings. In addition to the meeting on comparative provincial legislation and law reforms, there were discussions on the administration of criminal justice; on insurance law, legal education, the junior bar, international law and on the administration of civil justice.

Efforts to draw up a company law that would bring uniformity to the various and sometimes conflicting provincial company laws have been carried on by a committee and sub-committee drawn up at a Dominion-provincial conference in 1935, Mr. Smith said.

"The committee has approached the problem in an earnest desire to achieve uniformity to the extent that uniformity is practicable and to avoid pushing uniformity to the extent that its proposals would be unacceptable either to the Dominion or to any province," said Mr. Smith.

A rough draft of the proposed legislation had already been made and was distributed among members attending the meeting. General discussion was held and criticism was heard from several prominent Canadian company lawyers.

Threat to Creed Feared By Duff

Chief Justice Urges Strong Judiciary as Safeguard for Democracy

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British political creed, cherishing liberty, civil rights, justice and other attributes of the democratic ideal, was the "object of a direct and menacing challenge," Sir Lyman Duff, Chief Justice of the Canadian Supreme Court, declared last night.

"These precious possessions of ours appear to have no value in the eyes of millions," the jurist said in the course of a banquet address to the 23rd annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association.

Sir Lyman, his voice ringing with emotion, made no specific reference to any nation during his remarks, but he said:
"I have no criticism for the political institutions of any people, but we cannot be indifferent for we cannot say our policy is secure."

Sir Lyman said he had once been told western civilization would find its permanent setting on the North American continent.

"But I can't believe the light of France will fall into darkness," he said. "I can't believe Britain will become an outpost of American civilization...
Here in Canada we can at least keep aloft the flag that in so many parts of the world for so many generations has been the guarantee of humanity and justice."

The Chief Justice's patriotic utterances drew response from Viscount Finlay of Nairn, judge of the English High Court of Justice, King's Bench Division, and representative of the English bar to the convention. In an address following that of Sir
Lyman, he said:

"In England, we are proud to have a bench and a bar, strong, independent, learned, fearless.
And in Canada you also must be proud to have a strong, independent, learned, fearless bench and bar.

"Believe me, the possession of such a bench, such a bar is a defence against tyranny whether it be the tyranny of the one or the tyranny of many."

STOCKS OF OLD WHEAT IN STATES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department report stocks of old wheat in the United States July 1 totaled 154,072,000 bushels. Similar stocks on the same date last year were reported at 83,214,000 bushels.

The supply of wheat on August 1, including the new crop, was placed at 1,110,061,000 bushels, compared with 957,855,000 a year ago.

Stocks of old wheat and wheat in commercial stocks and merchants mills on July 1 were estimated at 173,638,000 bushels, largest amount since 1934, when the combined stocks were esti-

Lindberghs Witness Soviet Air Show

MOSCOW (AP)—Col. and Mrs.
Charles A. Lindbergh watched
Moscowites at play last night.
They paid an after-dinner visit to Gorky Park of Culture and Rest, where they watched a performance of the ballet, "The Prisoner of Caucasus," in the picturesque "Green Theatre."

They witnessed the show, on an open-air stage separated from the audience by a lagoon, as guests of the civil aviation fleet which took part during the afternoon in a spectacular three-hour air spectacle in celebration of Soviet "Aviation Day."

Some observers conjectured that Lindbergh was investigating the possibility of a new airline between Moscow and New York by way of Alaska. Others foresaw increased American co-operation in building up Soviet air strength as an outcome of the flier's visit.

During the afternoon air show daring Soviet pilots put on demonstrations which held hundreds of thousands of Russians spellbound. There were mass parachute jumping demonstrations, with hundreds of parachutists participating. For a moment the opening parachutes seemed completely to fill the sky in front of the spectators.

"The Americas" Agree

WHEN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT speaks of the serious things in life, as he did at Queen's University yesterday, he invariably turns over a good deal of soil in which the public of all nations may dig with profit. It was only natural he should refer to the friendly relationship which has existed between his country and ours for so many years, that, by the same token, he should allude to it with unequivocal directness at this stage of the world's affairs. This extract is worth noting:

"We are good neighbors and true friends because we maintain our rights with frankness, because we refuse to accept the twists of secret diplomacy, because we settle our disputes by consultation, and because we discuss our common problems in the spirit of the common good. We seek to be scrupulously fair and helpful, not only in our relations with each other, but each of us at home in our relations with our own people."

Equally definite, albeit adroit to a degree, was the President's allusion to a state of mind elsewhere, a condition which may not come within the category of this continent's immediate business, but which is well understood by its peoples. We in Canada and our neighbors on the south have our own opinions "in regard to wanton brutality, in regard to undemocratic regimentation, in regard to misery inflicted on helpless peoples, or in regard to violations of accepted individual rights." Drawing his inspiration, perhaps, from the atmosphere of the surroundings of yesterday's ceremonial, Mr. Roosevelt clarified his implication when he pronounced the dictum that "no country where thought is free can prevent every fireside and home within its border from considering evidence for itself and rendering its own verdict; and the sum total of these conclusions of educated men and women will, in the long run, become the national verdict."

Bound by the limits of constitutional tradition and usage, it was not to be expected that the distinguished visitor would particularize where meaning was so clear, less likely that on "foreign" soil he would go even as far as Secretary of State Cordell Hull went in his international broadcast on Tuesday. But Mr. Roosevelt endowed a basic change of outlook on the part of the United States with a more pointed significance than any to which voice has been given in recent years. It is one thing, however, to believe that the "conclusions of educated men and women will, in the long run, become the national verdict," and another thing to enlist a sufficient volume of public opinion to capitalize that belief as a prelude to effective action by the President's compatriots.

Well and good to adorn education with all the garlands of its beneficent universality—comprising a sort of "free trade" to which every political leader may subscribe. Well and good to catalogue truth as a commodity which emotion elbows on one side; it will so remain as long as forbearance is willing to abdicate in favor of bitterness. We in the two English-speaking nations of this continent, of course, enjoy an atmosphere of human thought which does not allow the intrusion of discord.

We of "the Americas" are converted to the Rooseveltian philosophy in our domestic practice and international outlook. It is our creed. But the President of the United States does well every time he raises his voice, be it in his own land or in this Dominion, to emphasize—for that is what he obviously intended in his speech at Queen's University—the fact that a time has come for this continent to impress on other continents the fundamental truth that the "atmosphere of human thought" in all its aspects must be cleared so that "the profit of education" will rebound to "the equal benefit of the whole world."

An Abdication Revival

EVEN THOUGH IT MAY NOT TURN OUT to be a "best seller," it can be taken for granted that Compton Mackenzie's new book, "The Windsor Tapestry," will be devoured by a public which is possibly still thirsty for more details of an exasperatingly delicate chapter in the history of the British royal family.

"That the country has not gravely suffered from the abdication of King Edward VIII is due to himself, to their present Majesties, and to Queen Mary." With these words the author prefaces his work; but he also explains that "rising indignation" at the "abominable treatment which the Duke had received and was receiving" inspired him to write this defence of the Duke of Windsor's actions. Mr. Mackenzie says:

"The disgrace of the abdication was the aftermath. Whatever might have been felt about the manner in which constitutional usage, press opinion, religious prejudice, popular ignorance, and political nervousness had been marshalled against that King in such a way as to render him practically incapable of doing anything in the end except losing the whole world to gain his soul, silence might have been maintained if that soul had been granted its freedom."

To the then Prime Minister, Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Mackenzie directs a sustained onslaught. He wants to know why he did not have "the courage—and it would not have taken the poorest tithe of his master's courage—to come to the microphone and for five minutes use that tender voice with which he was wont to solicit the electorate's trust to beg fair play for the Duke of Windsor."

"At this stage it is fairly safe to say that Earl Baldwin will not be drawn into a new controversy surrounding what happened nearly two years ago. It is now history—not pleasant to re-read or contemplate, and it cannot be changed. The Prime Minister of that day was confronted with circumstances of the full significance of which only he and few others were aware."

But just as the country has "not gravely suffered" from the abdication because of the demeanor of all concerned, at the time and since, so we may deduce from the lack of unpleasant reaction from the British people, then and since, that they have no grave quarrel with Earl Baldwin over the manner in which he dealt with the most distasteful problem of his career.

Frank Burd—Good Citizen

ON SUNDAY IN VANCOUVER MAYOR George C. Miller of that city will present to Mr. F. J. Burd, for many years the guiding genius of the Vancouver Province, the good citizenship medal for 1938.

To those of us of the newspaper trade who have been privileged to know Frank Burd for 20 years or more the news, published some time ago, that he had been selected for the honor now to be bestowed upon him, came as no surprise. Intimate knowledge of him and his works, moreover, apart altogether from his ability as a newspaper executive, makes it simple and pleasant for us to add our meed to the chorus of praise which no doubt will be sung to him on Sunday.

With the daily grind much less exacting in recent years—hard work never disagreed with him—Mr. Burd has devoted the major part of his leisure time to every useful purpose in which his assistance has been sought. Fraternity in British Columbia has in him a workman of proven worth. Sunday's occasion furnishes its own commentary on the contributions he has made to Vancouver's welfare through the years.

Speaking of Appendicitis

TOO MANY PERSONS ARE DYING OF appendicitis, in spite of campaigns to reduce its mortality rate and in spite of an actual downward trend noted recently. This opinion, held by many authorities, is reaffirmed in a statement from the New York State Department of Health. Appendicitis ought to be, as Dr. Reginald Fitz of Boston points out, "a disease easily diagnosed, of no great danger, and when recognized early and submitted to proper treatment, readily amenable to cure."

Improper use of laxatives and delay in removing the inflamed appendix seem to be the chief factors keeping the appendicitis death rate up. On the laxative subject, Dr. J. O. Bower of Philadelphia is authority for the statement that between 1918 and 1935 "248,000... have been literally slaughtered with laxatives." Dr. Fitz cited figures from Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston showing that of 65 patients who died of appendicitis, 74 per cent had taken some sort of cathartic before entering the hospital, whereas of 100 patients who recovered, only 51 per cent had taken a laxative.

The same cases also showed the effect of delay in having the appendix removed. None of the patients who died had been operated on within 12 hours and only 11 per cent within 24 hours of the onset of acute abdominal pain or bellyache. Of the patients who recovered, 8 per cent had been operated on within 12 hours and 25 per cent within 48 hours of the onset of pain.

If the abdominal pain or bellyache lasts over four hours it is probably serious. Authoritative advice in such cases is: Call a doctor, do not eat or drink, do not take laxatives or cathartics. Sometimes appendicitis follows a blow on the abdomen. Doctors are not agreed whether in such cases the blow was the sole cause or where it precipitated an attack in a previously inflamed appendix. The important point is that such cases of appendicitis are unusually severe and demand immediate surgical attention.

Fable: Once there was a resort where the natives said the weather was just about as usual for the time of year.

THE JAPANESE "CONQUEST"

From New York Post
It is easy to draw shaded lines over a map of China whenever the Japanese troops advance a few miles down a highway and to call the new area "Japanese-controlled."

But Captain Evans F. Carlson of the United States Marine Corps, just concluding a long tour through Shensi, Suiyuan, Shansi, Hopeh and Shantung provinces, reports that the Japanese control railway lines, a few highways and the key cities, but that the vast majority of the territory and the inhabitants inside the Japanese lines are still independent and defiant of the Japanese.

The Captain reports that the Chinese nominally in the "occupied" areas are operating arsenals and factories for the Chinese government, running banks and schools. The Chinese bank even cashed travelers' checks for Captain Carlson, the director remarking he could easily send them through the Japanese lines to Peiping.

Bob Davis Reveals

Fascinating Flasco Ceremonies Witnessed at a Florentine Inn.

FLORENCE.
IT WOULD BE profanation to visit this historic city along the banks of the Arno without announcing my presence to Commander Carlos del Prato, in my humble opinion one of the most efficient though self-effacing gastronomes in the Tuscany district of Italy.

And so it comes about that del Prato, Mr. Marvin (a good feeder gathered up in transit) and your humble servant are seen entering the ancient cantina of Mario Corsini on the unobtrusive Piazza Ottaviani in the municipality of Firenze. "It is here," said del Prato, "that you should come, as the Mohammedan goes to Mecca or the Hindu to Benares, at least once. Here one may dip his bread in wine with a peasant for companion or in the society of an aristocrat. At the trattoria of Corsini all men are equal."

With a flirt of his hand against a hempen drapery at a stone entrance, our conductor opened the way into a cool and shadowy basement down a short flight of steps worn smooth by countless impatient feet. Our eyes, penetrating the dim and rambling interior, soon made out a number of couples either ordering or consuming food, and a long table set for a company that had not yet arrived. Bread, bottles of crystal water and eating utensils already in place gave promise of approaching action. The entrancing perfume of Italian cooking floated from an invisible kitchen. Laughter and friendly speech echoed from room to room, five in all, divide by arches of solid antique masonry.

"Uno flasco," said del Prato, holding up one finger to Corsini the Great, at the same time waving us to be seated.

"If this meal starts as a flasco, at what point does it develop into a panic?" asked Marvin, slipping into a chair.

"Without a flasco," replied our host, laughing, "this dinner would begin and end in calamity. Flasco is Italian for one plump two-and-a-half-litre bottle of wine, and no restrictions upon the consumer." The arrival of the waiter, bearing a bulging rush-covered bottle big as a football, restored Marvin to a state of rationality for the moment. I also began to breathe easier. Without further delay, confronted by a large platter of delicious, salami, and each with a glass of golden elixir to keep his palate moist, we received from del Prato a short account of the flasco and its relation to the rights of man.

"This long-necked, rotund bottle before us," said he, "is a male flasco. The slightly smaller size holding but two litres is known as a female flasco. This type bottle, a product of Tuscany, antedates the flood. After being filled to within two inches of the top, a small quantity of olive oil is added before the cork is fixed. Once uncorked, one must place an earthen cup over the spout, otherwise mice will climb the spout, insert their tails and draw off the olive oil, leaving the wine to spoil. Wine does not appeal to them."

"Are you sure about that?" asked Marvin. "I'm sure the rodents will never get into this bottle," replied the Commander, interrupting his narrative to scan the fish course and refill his own glass and mine. "We have now reached the fish course, gentlemen. How would you like some baby squid cooked in deep scalding olive oil? Yes? And after that, hot asparagus with hollandaise sauce, followed by fruit, cheese and black coffee..."

Later, by request, Corsini came forward with his mathematics, an elaborate undertaking that ended with his lifting the flasco bottle, eyes aloft in reflection, setting it down again and writing a figure upon the cheque, which totaled, tip included, the sum of 43 lire and 30 centimes; del Prato paid, with an extra fee of 5 lire, for which unbridled extravagance we received a sweeping genuflection, not only from Corsini but his signora and the waiters as well. Reduced to dollars, the bill amounted to $2.47.

"Pardon me, Commander: how much for the wine?" asked Marvin, a true seeker after light.

"Wow!" exclaimed the wine-bibber. "There were only a couple of shots left in the bottle. He's stuck himself. Ask him what he's about."

"Just a moment," interposed the Commander, restraining Marvin. "It would be an unforgivable breach of etiquette to question Corsini's estimate of the amount of wine we drank. A flasco bottle in the hand of an Italian waiter is like the scales held aloft by the fingers of Justice. To the fraction of a gram he is infallible. Dread the day he makes an error; the River Arno will begin to run uphill. Vesuvius to requake and the lira to go off 50 per cent."

Young Mr. Marvin, bearcorn on standardized formality, seemed mollified upon receipt of this information. It was rather amusing the next day to learn that, having discovered the price of a two-and-a-half-litre flasco to be in the neighborhood of 35 or 40 cents, he was all for returning to the air-conditioned rathskeller on the Piazza Ottaviani, there to resume the quaint custom of beating both mice and men to the flasks of old Tuscany.

PUBS, PETROL AND SHOPPES

Some suggest we call them "Pubs." This common sense the wrong way rubs. Others would change pies to tarts. And copy names from foreign parts. Gas to petrol, store to shoppe. I wonder will they ever stop?

Pardon me, if I suggest, They overlook what I think best: The beauty of the sea and land, Provided with a lavish hand, By a kind Providence, free for all, Mountain, valley, waterfall. These should suffice to bring the tourist here.

Without recourse to skittles and to beer. Let us not stoop to such fictitious aids, But trust in Nature, that which never fades. E. B. ANDROS.

FARMERS GAMBLE

From Calgary Herald
A few hours before the storm the wheat field in this area gave promise of a bumper crop, the heaviest in years, yet a deluge of hail and high wind destroyed that promise in a twinkling. In some sections there was a total loss, in others partial. The raising of wheat on the prairies is a gamble.

Trade Barriers Seen As Contribution to Japan's Desperation

port trade is being increasingly stifled by foreign trade barriers, according to Ethel B. Dietrich, writing in the current issue of the Far Eastern Survey, published by the Institute of Pacific Relations. "The nations," she adds, "which have closed their doors against Japanese goods cannot escape responsibility for contributing to Japan's present mood of desperation." Only 6 per cent of world exports of finished manufactures come from Japan, and if widely and broadly distributed would not be a cause of fear to other manufacturing nations.

Reviewing this argument as the basis for Japan's aggressive policy of conquest, Miss Dietrich shows that Japan entered world markets as an exporter of manufactured goods at a peculiarly inauspicious moment, during and after the World War. Because of low labor costs and the Japanese workers' low standard of living, Japan was able to compete successfully for a time in world markets. Internally, however, the superposition of the modern factory system on top of the traditional social system has resulted in a rigid and limited domestic market.

During the World War Japan's modern factories increased by 33 per cent and her output five times, with a shift from unfinished products to manufactured goods. Consolidating her trade gains during the twenties, Japan was ready to launch an export campaign as the world depression spread. On every side she was met with obstructions. China, formerly a free market, imposed a high tariff with increases ranging from 33 1/3 to 600 per cent. Colonial markets, where Japanese products are eminently suited to the needs of native populations, were openly or subtly barred against Japan. Quota restrictions in French Indo-China, quantitative restrictions on imports in the Netherlands colonies, British colonial quotas and encouragement of native industries, coupled with the "Buy British" campaigns, and the United States agreement with the Philippines, all aided in closing her natural markets to industrialized Japan.

The younger independent industrializing nations such as the Latin American countries had high protective tariffs, quotas, and license systems designed to protect their infant industries at all costs, tariff preferences such as the Ottawa Agreements, and foreign exchange control or compensation agreements which tended to organize trade on reciprocal lines. Japan's export trade, sorely hit by these developments, was vulnerable because her characteristic exports are directly competitive with new secondary industries, and as an importer of raw materials she must buy from the producers of these commodities even though they frequently are not the natural market for her exports.

Foreign nations, says Miss Dietrich, may argue that Japan should, by measures to raise her people's standard of living, develop an open door at home. But this argument, she adds, would stand more chance of acceptance if these other nations, too, gave evidence of willingness somewhat to modify their present policies in the interests of general appeasement.

YOUNG SOLDIERS

To the Editor:—There is a chap in Vancouver who, I believe, is the youngest living Canadian soldier of the last war. However, I am one of the youngest myself. The Vancouver chap was not actually an official soldier until he was back in Canada after the war, and he was then put on the roll of the Canadian army and given back pay from his enlistment. My own record is as follows: Born May 3, 1900. Enlisted March 17, 1916, while still 15 years old. Sailed from Halifax for England on old Empire of Britain on April 1, 1916, with 75th Battalion of Toronto. Enlisted as full private and retained that rank till discharge in Toronto on February 25, 1917. Served five months in France and Belgium. Buried twice in one hour; reported missing after being knocked out by piece of an exploding shell. Came to later and returned to billet, after roll-call. Sent home and discharged under age. I was part of the 75th drafted to the 3rd Canadian Pioneer in France when the 75th, under Col. Beckett, was broken up at Bramshott.

HOW TO REVIVE REAL ESTATE

To the Editor:—In answer to a letter from R. T. Elliott, K.C., who claims real estate values were wrecked and stay wrecked by reasons of the attempts to make the public sick of the C.N.R. system, may I say that as far as Victoria real property values are concerned, the rules, regulations, and zoning by-laws have killed real estate values. The speculative instinct inherent in most men, in respect to real estate, is dormant at the present time.

Real estate values have depreciated to such an extent that the municipalities are loaded with reverted real estate for unpaid taxes. Real estate assets are considered a liability, not an asset, and have no value for bank credit, whereas real property in British Columbia should be the basis of wealth.

Real property advertisements in the press are not a tenth, compared to 20 years ago when optimism was a feature of the growing population. It is admitted that Victoria is the finest health resort in Canada, the best climate, and the most desirable residential city on the shores of the Pacific.

The pessimism that prevails is simply a state of mind, an error of the imagination, and should be eliminated. Real estate agents are good advertisers, and good publicity men. At the present time the provincial government requires a bond for $1,000 and a license fee of $10 for real estate agents, which leaves the selling of real estate in the hands of a few. What we want in B.C. is a few thousand optimistic real estate agents who by advertising and publicity would create interest, and eventually investment in British Columbia real estate.

The problem of reverted lands would eventually solve itself.

RADIO INTRUSION

To the Editor:—Under the present lack of reception-control, radio ravishes your property right to privacy. It is the uninvited guest whether you dine, shop or travel; assaulting your physical and mental well-being, and assailing your sense of proportion and decency. A single loud-speaker is a marauding Frankenstein monster so all-pervading that it can belay every human and beast in a city block simultaneously. Resurgence by a long-suffering public may suddenly initiate legislation restricting radio reception to earphones, except in public halls. Grateful multitudes will then be disenthrallled from diaphanous tyranny, and the indifferent noise bully isolated with his favorite horror.

PIE OUTLOOK BRIGHT

From Ottawa Journal
The government of New Brunswick gleefully informs us of a bumper blueberry crop in the counties of Gloucester and Restigouche, which last year produced 4,000,000 pounds of this delectable fruit. The pie situation is well in hand.

under these conditions. The sale of Victoria's reverted lands at a normal value would reduce taxation 50 per cent, more or less. In my opinion the only way to eliminate the present condition is to make it easy to sell real estate, to allow anyone to sell real estate, and act as an agent at a nominal fee of $1 for registration purposes.

With a few thousand real estate boosters in the province of B.C., reverted lands would be a thing of the past, and real estate values a matter of supply and demand.

DOGFISH LIVERS

From Canada's Weekly
Fraser River fishermen are anticipating that dogfish will increasingly contribute to their revenue in the coming years. Oil from the livers of the fish are in demand for lubricating and other purposes, and realizes from six cents per pound. Japan formerly exported the product, but hostilities in the Far East have necessitated the cessation of shipments in the interests of domestic needs.

Shapley Reveals New, Strange Stellar System

Other World Science
Leaders Address
British Association

(Copyright, 1938)

CAMBRIDGE, Eng.—Discovery of the second example of a new kind of immense but extremely faint star system in the heavens was revealed by Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of Harvard Observatory, speaking before the British Association for the advancement of Science here this morning.

Only a few months ago Harvard astronomers found the first of these systems, called the Sculptor cluster, on a photograph made with the southern hemisphere's most powerful telescope, the 60-inch reflector at Harvard's station at Bloemfontein, South Africa.

* The new star cluster is in the constellation of Fornax, only about 20 degrees in the heavens from the Sculptor cluster. It is an immense aggregation of stars probably about 300,000 light years distant from us. Dr. Shapley said that at least 5,000 individual stars in the Fornax system have been spotted.

The reason that astronomers are rather excited about these discoveries is that they have found a new kind of star grouping that "may have high significance in the general study of the nature of stellar systems." It is remarkable in that it is neither a globular cluster, nor a Magellanic cloud, nor a spheroidal galaxy, but has certain properties of all three of these well known kinds of stellar systems.

The extreme faintness of the great mass of stars is one reason that it has not been discovered earlier. It took a two-hour exposure with the powerful telescope to demonstrate the existence of the Fornax cluster.

Doubt that the universe is expanding, Dr. Shapley hinted, may result from the extensive study of the distribution of the galaxies that Harvard Observatory has been conducting for several years. There are major inequalities in the way the great "universes" of stars, each somewhat like our own Milky Way, are distributed in space. Dr. Shapley reported the discovery of a transverse gradient in the space-density of galaxies across the south galactic pole.

As a result of this work the scientific controversy as to whether the universe is expanding may be renewed.

TWO KINDS OF GENIUS

In science as in other fields of human effort, "some men are born great, others acquire greatness." During his address here today as president of the British Association's section on mathematics and physics, Dr. C. G. Darwin, F.R.S., drew the distinction in the course of a eulogy on the late Lord Rutherford, pioneer of modern atomic physics. He said:

"When we try to assess the qualities, as opposed to the performance, of great men of science, we can make a dichotomy of them into two classes. . . . There is the type of genius who seems to have been born with a knowledge of some branch of nature, so that he has only to grow up, learn to read and write, and then be told what the difficulties are in order to understand and explain them. Perhaps Lord Kelvin was the typical instance, for he seemed to know all about thermodynamics spontaneously at 22.

"Then there is the opposite type, of which the late Lord Rayleigh was an example, who seem not to have a natural understanding of things, but to know more precisely than common men what they do not know and by mastering it to gain a very deep insight into nature.

"It is a question of whether it is easier to conquer the world by understanding it or by not understanding it."

EVOLUTIONARY "ISLANDS"

Islands played a classic role in the development of the doctrine of evolution. Darwin was impressed with the effects on animals and plants of ages of isolation on the Galapagos; similar phenomena on the smaller islands of the East Indies had a like effect on the mind of Alfred Russel Wallace.

But isolation can produce evolutionary effects without any islands, it was pointed out by several speakers here today. Animal and plant communities can be surrounded with conditions on land that prevent their migration just as surely as though they were marooned in the midst of the sea. For example, a forest which many of its species are quite unable to cross, or Alpine species may be isolated if the mountain range is in the midst of a desert. Effects of this kind of isolation, termed "ecological isolation," were discussed by Dr. W. B. Turrill of the Royal Botanic Gardens at Kew.

An even narrower isolation is possible, when the nature of an organism, or the minute interior structure of its cells, prevent it from interbreeding with species that surround it and are somewhat like it, but not sufficiently so to permit successful mating and reproduction. These types of isolation, known respectively as genetic and chromosomal isolation, were the topics of Dr. C. D. Darlington of the John Innes Horticultural Institution and Dr. D. G. Catchside of King's College, London.

WHEN ATOMS SMASH

First understanding of exactly what happens within the hearts of atoms, showing that they get hot and bothered and finally go smash, practically like the explosive ending of a love idyll, was presented here today before the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science by the Danish Nobel laureate Niels Bohr.

When the nucleus or heart of an atom is subjected to bombardment with electrical particles, the events resemble on a small scale what happens when you heat up an ordinary larger object. At first, energy is added and a semi-stable compound is formed. Then the whole thing either goes to pieces or de-activates itself by radiating away the energy that has been shot into it.

EARLY STONE AGE SKULL IS "MODERN"

Amazingly "modern" is the broken skull of an exceedingly early Stone Age man discovered at Swanscombe, associated with extinct elephants and other animals that disappeared from Europe with the passing of the Ice Age. This important fossil was discussed by a group of seven scientists, who tackled the question from all possible angles.

Although this earliest of early Britons was an exceedingly crude fellow, so far as his tools and other cultural achievements are concerned, he was not a Neanderthal, nor a Heidelberg, nor a member of any of the other clumsy, beetle-browed races we have been accustomed to regard as dominating the dawn of the Age of Man on this planet. He was like us, a member of the species Homo Sapiens, so far as all the evidence now in hand can be interpreted.

Society Girl Is Driving Taxi For Living

Miss Marian Mellicke
Of Vancouver
Surprises Her Friends

VANCOUVER (CP)—While Vancouver society lifts a supercilious eyebrow, Miss Marian E. Mellicke, daughter of Hugo E. Mellicke, a partner in the financial house of Mellicke Brothers, is earning her living by driving a taxi cab.

Graduate of the University of British Columbia, Marian got the job last week by answering an advertisement for a "feminine chauffeur" because "I should go mad if I did nothing but play all my life."

She says she first thought the advertisement called for a private driver, but she finds her job with a commercial taxi company is turning out better than she expected. The job, too, has a future, she believes.

"My friends think I am just playing at this work," says Marian. "But I am serious. Women drivers can fill an important place in serving the community. Parents would prefer to hire women drivers to look after their children, for example."

CARRIES ROLLING PIN

Vancouver's first woman taxi driver, after a week on the job, says she is still a bit nervous when she goes out on a call. But for protection she carries a good, old-fashioned weapon in the seat beside her—a rolling pin.

Marian's friends and family weren't the only ones surprised by her new job. The city police traffic division also got a sizeable jolt when she applied for a chauffeur's license.

"I had a hard time getting the police to see my point," says Miss Mellicke. "They made me write two special examinations, besides passing my driving test. They blinked lights at me and finger-printed me and did everything they knew to change my mind, but in the end I survived."

Suggests Premiums To Sell Farm Stuff

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The women's editor of the London Free Press thinks premiums would help in selling farm produce. "A handful of dried sage leaves, or a little packet of crumb dressing all ready to stuff into the bird, or if your mind runs to hardware, say, a paring knife, or a basting spoon presented with each purchase of a fowl, would surely increase the sale of dressed poultry," she says.

"Come to think of it, it is hard to be consistent about this, as with numerous other things in life. We know a woman who frequently condemns the offering of 'something for nothing.' 'You'll find that you really pay for it in the end, either in poorer quality of goods, less weight or measure, or in some way,' we have often heard her say.

"But the other day as she and her husband were driving through town, she noted a gas station sign offering a certain kitchen gadget free with each five gallons of gasoline. 'Oh, drive in and buy some gas and get me one of these things. I've wanted one for years,' she directed her husband. He laughingly tells that the gas was a higher-priced quality than he regularly uses and she could have bought the gadget any time of the year at a notion counter."

Libby's Tomato Products

"Gentle Press" makes it a 2 to 1 bet that Libby's SOUP Libby's CATCHUP Libby's Tomato JUICE
are the best you have tasted

If you could come with us to Libby's Canadian Kitchens during the tomato season you would quickly convince yourself that Libby's patented "Gentle Press" method (Canadian patent No. 334,356) does bring to you the succulent juices of garden-fresh tomatoes with a taste-pleasing flavour that is exclusively Libby's.

Standing at the "Gentle Press" machine, you would sense its magical performance, as before your eyes it rejects the tough outer skin—the bitterness from seeds and coarse fibre—eliminating those parts that mar flavour—extracting only the satisfying, meaty juice. Before Libby's invented this "Gentle Press" process, a large portion of these undesirable parts of the tomato were crushed into a pulp and became a part of the so-called juice which enters into tomato products—tomato juice—tomato catchup—and tomato soup.

The tomatoes themselves are heavily laden with vitamin health-giving juices. They are the result of twenty-five years of careful selection of seeds from the juiciest, most successful tomatoes of each year's crop. The result is that Libby's tomatoes today are firm and smooth with practically no skin blemishes—a tenderloin heart—and comparatively free of seeds—but full of luscious appetizing juice. They are grown right at Libby's Canadian Kitchens and picked and processed all within a few hours.

Libby's make this friendly challenge. The next time you are at your grocer's, order a small supply of Libby's "Gentle Press" TOMATO JUICE, TOMATO SOUP and TOMATO CATCHUP. Taste them yourself—ask the whole family to compare them with any Tomato Products they have ever eaten. If you do not agree that they are positively the most flavourful—the very best you have tasted—Libby's will cheerfully refund DOUBLE the purchase price.

Signs of Autumn Appear in New York

By GEORGE ROSS
NEW YORK—Signs of autumn appear in the nonarborescent canyons of Manhattan long before turning leaves tell the same story in other parts of the land.
The garment center, that fitful area which extends some ten blocks in the 30's, is teeming with renewed activity. The shipping clerks who push those hand trucks are carting about all the suits and overcoats which will protect us from the wintry blasts, though the fahrenheit stays up.

The comely models of the John Powers Park Avenue agency, those charmers whose faces and figures adorn the advertisements you see in newspapers and magazines, are powdering their noses for another hectic season.

Already, so the fashion watch tower tells us, they are swinging into action, posing in fall sports wear for football pictures, in capes, foxes, and neatly tailored suits which, alas, must be surrendered after several brief, precious, moments of sweet possession.

One of these lovely ladies, in fact, just told us that she has had more modelling assignments in the past fortnight than at any time since the summer started.

Ship Bandages To China Today

Local Committee Sends Supplies For Medical Aid

Another shipment of medical supplies and clothing is going out on the S.S. Empress of Japan today. It comprises four cases containing approximately 1,100 sterilized bandages of various sorts and good used clothing. Two weeks ago a supply of antitetanus serum was shipped.
The Committee for Medical Aid for China maintains offices at 1426 Government Street, which are open from 2 to 5 p.m. on weekdays, where a number of Victoria women give their services daily in the making of bandages. It is intended to send monthly shipments and for this purpose increased supplies of used cotton and linen goods, particularly old sheets, and cash for medical supplies are needed.

 3. No.
 4. Right.
 5. Hand farther from the person.
- Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b) if possible—otherwise (a).

Will Reconsider Parole for Women

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Reconsideration of a parole for Mrs. Louise Northcott, 70, serving a life sentence for the murder of Walter Collins on a chicken ranch in Riverside County a decade ago, has been ordered by the board of parole of the California Institution for Women, Tehachapi Prison, Chairman Lotus H. Loudon announced today.

The board last November ordered Mrs. Northcott paroled to her husband, George Northcott, of Kutztown, Pa., on December 31. The matter will be reconsidered at a meeting September 10 at Tehachapi.

"Because of the seriousness of the crime involved, the board has decided to discuss all phases of the case," Loudon said.

The board chairman said he had received a letter from Sanford Clark, star witness in the conviction of Mrs. Northcott and her son, Gordon, later executed, protesting the parole and declaring he feared for his life if she goes free. Clark now is a resident of Saskatoon, Sask.

Comedy Team Joined in Death

Thomas K. Heath Follows James McIntyre to Grave

NEW YORK (CP)—One of the greatest comedy teams vaudeville has ever known became reunited in death today with the passing of Thomas K. Heath who starred for better than half a century in the team of McIntyre and Heath.
A year ago James McIntyre died. And yesterday, at his home in Setauket, N.Y., Heath, at the age of 85, succumbed to a heart attack, never knowing his partner had preceded him in death.

The two formed their famous duo more than 60 years ago in San Antonio, Tex.
Their final appearance together was in "America Sings" in Philadelphia in 1934.

Jewish Names for Jews, Nazi Order

BERLIN (AP)—Next new year some half million German Jews must add Israel or Sarah to their names.

The government issued a decree today requiring any Jew having a non-Jewish first name to adopt as an additional given name Israel if male, Sarah if female.
The decree compels all Jews with non-Jewish names to notify the municipal or country clerks in whose registers their names are entered that they have taken on the additional name Israel or Sarah.

The decree, signed by the Ministers of Justice and the Interior, expressly exempts Jews of foreign nationality from these requirements.

Problem of Lawyers

Duty to Perfect Processes of Law-making, Says A. T. Vanderbilt of American Bar Association.

VANCOUVER — "The problem of liberty and freedom and of law and government are inescapably the problems of lawyers," said Arthur T. Vanderbilt of Newark, N.J., in an address before the Canadian Bar Association.

The 1937 president of the American Bar Association urged revision of law school curricula to provide for more intensive studies of public law and the principles of civil government.

"With the forces of tyranny, ignorance and depression rampant on four continents, with the same forces struggling to assert themselves in every quarter of the world, it is not evident that the primary and paramount obligation of the bar is to perfect the processes of law-making in the courts, in our administrative tribunals and in our legislatures," he asked.

"What more practical contribution can the profession make in a restless, worn world toward the preservation of the democratic process of government? Whose duty is it to perfect the processes of law-making if not the lawyers?"

Declaring the establishment and preservation of liberty was the chief concern of the lawyers and of democratic government, Mr. Vanderbilt said:

"Intolerance stalks the globe. The entire world seems to be divided into two classes, one believing that whatever is, is right, the other that whatever is, is wrong. . . . Reason and common sense, as well as the life of the spirit, seem to be in danger of being crushed between the upper and the nether millstones of material conservatism, so-called, and of material liberalism, so-called."

"Yet there are many people to whom this philosophy of intolerance for views that they dislike has a strong appeal. They fail to realize that such intolerance necessarily precludes intellectual freedom, religious freedom and political freedom."

"They fail to realize that liberty, in its higher aspects at least, is not an incorporeal hereditament handed down from generation to generation by operation of law. They fail to realize that liberty is something which must be achieved by each successive generation."

It was on that basis Mr. Vanderbilt made his appeal for courses in the study of public law and government, of liberty and

Lester Patrick left this afternoon to confer with his brother Frank at Montreal where the plans for the forthcoming ice skating and hockey season will be outlined. As before, the well known brother hockey stars will be out after the best players in the market, and it is their desire to hold the hockey championship of the world in this province.

In addition to the lamps already installed on Rockland avenue six more are to be installed and four on street intersections in Craigflower subdivision.

Blunders in connection with the construction of steps on Dallas avenue street end were mentioned by Alderman Dilworth, chairman of the parks committee, last evening at the council meeting. He stated that it appeared that the council had proposed a concrete retaining wall as well as the steps, but a mistake had been made and only steps constructed.

For the first time since entering the Canadian-Australia service the fine new liner Niagara was given an opportunity of showing her real speed on the run from Sydney to Auckland. The Leviathan which links up the two dominions, came into port early this morning and the officers told of the remarkable way in which she made 19 knots crossing the Tasman Sea.

5 KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR

CHAMBOARD, Que. (CP) — Five men were killed today and a sixth injured seriously when their automobile was struck by a Canadian National Railway passenger train at a level crossing in this Lake St. John town.

The dead, on their way to work at nearby Le Malgoué when the accident occurred, were: Louis Lavoie, Joseph Boucher, Joseph Martel, Leonce Tremblay and Cleophas Fortin. Lavoie's son, Jean, driver of the car, was rushed to hospital at Roberval.

Resident of St. Francois de Sales, the victims were thrown from their car by the force of the collision.

U.S. Shift From European Scene

Policy of Least Resistance To Public Opinion, Says German Economist

LAKE COUCHICHIING, Ont. — Retreat of the United States from the European scene is the "most astonishing" shift in power relations in recent years, according to Dr. Hans Simons, exiled from Germany and now a social economist in New York City.

"Europe wonders whether it is possible to draw the United States back into a responsible position in the European scene," he told the seventh annual conference of the Canadian Institute of Economics and Politics here yesterday. But the United States' policy today "is one of least resistance in terms of public opinion."

Talk of the Japanese menace to the United States is "sheer propaganda," Dr. Simons added. "Naval experts realize the impracticability of trans-oceanic army transportation because disembarking under conditions of real resistance would be virtually impossible."

Dr. Simons charged Great Britain with fostering a policy of "Britain expects every American to do his duty" and with trying to involve the United States in European power relations by "dragging at public opinion."

Turning to the Far Eastern question, Dr. Simons said the western vision of the east's architectural order was a restriction to the United States' "concept of the open door." He compared Japan's position in the east with the United States' place in the Americas.

"Japan expected much from the Anti-Comintern Pact — the treaty signed two years ago with Italy and Germany," he continued. "But for Germany it served only to veil the growing estrangement of her system from western civilization and Italy placed much value on the Rome-Berlin axis."

"Germany sees in Japan only a check on Russian power. She will continue to pay lip-service to Japan without committing herself materially. Thus, Japan is deserted in this ideological issue and may revert to an elimination of the western world policy as a result."

Experts agree that the maximum population the earth can support is 12,000,000,000 persons.

DOCTORS OFFER HEALTH PLAN

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — Canada's medical associations have a compulsory health insurance plan prepared and will co-operate to bring it about as soon as citizens and governments are ready for it. Dr. W. A. Jones of Kingston, president-elect of the Ontario Medical Association, told a district meeting of doctors here yesterday.

Would Lower Voting Age

Young Liberals Urge Franchise at 18 in Convention Resolution

Because the people of Canada, through their representatives in Parliament, would be called upon to decide what steps Canada should take in event of war, the Twentieth Century Liberal Council of the Island believes the franchise to vote should be extended to persons of 18 years old and upwards.

In a resolution which will be forwarded to the provincial Liberal convention at Kelowna next week, the council urges an amendment to the Elections and Franchise Act be made to lower the voting age.

Another resolution from the council urges the establishment of a compulsory contributory pension scheme administered by the provincial government. It points out that agreement among the provinces on unemployment group insurance has failed and British Columbians should not have to wait for pension benefits.

Bear Purge Abandoned

OTTAWA (CP) — Threat of a bear-purge by the council of suburban Rockcliffe disappeared today when investigation revealed Alex Skelton's pet bruin was, in the words of the game warden, "so small you could almost put it in your pocket and was still being fed from a baby's bottle."

The council barred residents keeping bears after the incident earlier in the week when the pet, owned by the Rowell Commission secretary, frightened Mr. and Mrs. John Graham in Rockcliffe Park.

Screen Tests Fair Feature

Citizens Given Opportunity to Appear in Films

Free motion picture tests on regular studio sets with regular camera and sound equipment and all the apparatus used to make a real talkie, will be one of the outstanding features during the Fall Fair at the Willows from September 10 to 17, it was announced today by W. H. Mearns, secretary of the B.C. Agricultural Association.

Arrangements have been made with Kenneth Bishop, head of Central Films Ltd., to give free tests to applicants, and the public will be afforded every opportunity of witnessing these tests, which, when completed, will make a complete motion picture story, which it is planned to run off in one of the local theatre houses.

The jargon of studio operators, the unusual manner in which effects are achieved in the land of make belief, together with the brilliancy of the sets created by the huge arch lights, broads, rifles and other lighting equipment will be revealed to the public.

From those chosen for the test, the casting directors will select candidates who have been successful to appear in some of the forthcoming productions. Work in small parts, however, will be governed by the tests that have been taken.

All those wishing to have a motion picture test are requested to make written application to the casting director, Reginald Hincks, care of Central Films Ltd., Victoria. Only written applications will be considered.

Through the arrangements made by Mr. Bishop, the public will not only have an opportunity of witnessing how motion pictures are made, but also will be given an opportunity of seeing the finished product. Central Films Ltd., having installed its own developing tank so that the films can be prepared here for local projection.

Jimmy Roosevelt Bares Income Data

NEW YORK — Denial that he ever has engaged in the "political insurance" business was made today by James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the President, in the second of two articles in Collier's in which he reveals his income and other business details in order to prove the falsity of recently published rumors which estimated his income in fantastic figures and charged business impropriety.

"I'm not fool enough to try to laugh this situation off," he said, "these innuendoes, implications, whispers, ambiguities, I'm not permitting occasional successes to make me forget what underhandedness, political connivance and so on might do to my father."

"I am not in the political insurance business. Political insurance is insurance that is required by a political boss in order to win contracts from that boss or gang. I have never written a surety bond, a contractor's bond, fire insurance or any other kind of insurance that might by any stretch of any definition be called political insurance."

Young Roosevelt, who showed last week that his income had never touched $50,000 a year, in spite of published rumors fixing it between $250,000 and $2,000,000, today blew up further rumors concerning specific business he was reported to have obtained through political influence.

Regarding the $2,500,000 life

policy he wrote for George H. Hill, President of the American Tobacco Company, and on which his firm receives a commission of some $5,000 a year for nine years, Roosevelt reveals that he proposed that policy in 1931, a year before his father was even nominated for the Presidency. He describes as "utterly untrue" statements that he communicated with his father in Warm Springs, Ga., and asked him to be "nice" to Mr. Hill because much depended on it.

"As far as I know, Mr. Hill was not father's guest in Warm Springs until after election," he states, "almost five months after I got the contract to insure Mr. Hill's life. And neither I nor my firm has done a dollar's worth of business with Mr. Hill or the American Tobacco Company since I sold him that life policy. If those who spread the story had thought it necessary to come to me for information I would have been glad to set them straight. I should have gladly, too, given them access to my income tax returns."

Further photostatic copies of young Roosevelt's income tax returns are reproduced with the article, to substantiate his statements.

Canada Takes Golf Tourney

Scores Victory Over Americans in Seniors' Play at Colwood

By a score of 4½ to ½ a team of Canadian senior golfers defeated a squad of veterans from the United States at Colwood yesterday in the annual international match for the Nichol Cup. The Canadians were captained by J. E. Goldring and the Americans by J. J. Dempsey of Tacoma.

Feature of the match was the fine victory of Hon. John Hart and Bernie Schwengers over H. A. (Dixie) Fleager and Jack Ballinger of Seattle.

The half point scored by the Americans was gained by Dempsey and O. F. Lamson of Seattle who halved their match with R. L. Cliff, Vancouver, and J. S. McCulloch, Comox.

Results, with the Canadian team first mentioned, follow:

Paret and McPherson 1, Carter and Draham 0.

Gibson and Stewart 1, Bloedel and Roberts 0.

Cliff and McCulloch ½, Dempsey and Lamson ½.

Ruggles and Goldring 1, West and Remington 0.

Hart and Schwengers 1, Fleager and Ballinger 0.

Zulu Giants Will Play Here Monday

African Zulu Giants, colorful touring baseball club, will be back in Victoria to meet the Victoria All-stars in an exhibition game Monday evening at Athletic Park, officials of the Victoria Baseball Association announced today. The colored, grass-skirted tourists have a good show and during their three previous appearances here attracted good crowds. It was reported that efforts to bill the House of David and Zulu Giants for a two-game series tomorrow have fallen through, as permission could not be secured from the manager of the Davids.

The game will start at 6.

Annual Meeting Of Table Tennis

Table tennis fans in Victoria will soon hear the ping and pong of the white celluloid ball as plans are being made for the fall season. A general meeting of the Victoria Table Tennis Association will be held on August 25 in Room D, Y.M.C.A., at 8, when election of officers will take place. All league and tournament matches will be played at the Crystal Garden lower ballroom, which will be the club headquarters. Arrangements are being made for intercity matches with teams from Seattle, Portland and Vancouver.

All those interested in table tennis are requested to attend the general meeting and assist in making the coming season the best in the history of the local association.

TOWN TOPICS

Protest over the construction of a building at 1024 Richmond Avenue is made by C. Williams, 1765 Rockland Avenue, in a letter received today at the City Hall.

Police today investigated the finding last night of several new auto parts, including a clutch drive and fuel pump, in bushes on Admirals Road opposite the R.C.N. barracks. The parts were found by Dave La Valle, 631 Pandora Avenue.

A special meeting of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association will be held next Wednesday at 12:10 in Spencer's dining room. The guests will be the nine provincial superintendents of insurance and A. Gordon Nairn, field supervisor of the Life Underwriters' Association, Toronto.

Members of the Saanich and Esquimalt Liberal Associations will gather at Elk Lake tomorrow afternoon for their joint annual basket picnic. Mr. Williams, chairman of the sports committee, reports he has a fine program arranged. One of the highlights of this program will be a quiz match between the Saanich and the Esquimalt associations for the J. E. Painter's sons' cup. Tea and sugar will be provided.

Local members of the Florist Telegraph Association held a dinner party at the Dominion Hotel Wednesday evening. Mrs. W. H. Brown, district representative, who presided, arranged the table with a large bowl of pink and mauve larkspur and Briarcliffe roses, with pastel shade tapers among the flowers. Plans were made to entertain delegates who will pass through Victoria on their way to the Florist Telegraph Delivery Association convention in Portland from September 4 to 11. Present at the dinner were Mrs. H. McLennan, Mrs. M. Houghton, Miss Clara Krubinski, Miss White, Clyde Ballantyne and Lawrence Woodward.

Need Statement To Find Costs

City in Quandary Over Amount It Can Claim for Unemployables

Officials of the city relief office awaited announcement Monday of the provincial government's regulations covering contested relief cases ruled unemployable since March 1.

Following establishment of more stringent rulings which virtually doubled the number of those declared in the unable-to-work class, protests were made to the province over the increased burden that policy inflicted upon the city.

As the outcome of those protests, coupled with further objections from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, an understanding was given by the province it would absorb 40 per cent of the costs of the unemployable cases. Previously the city had been held 100 per cent responsible for their maintenance.

To date the government has not given any further information along those lines and the city is in a quandary over the amount it may claim in the form of the 40 per cent government rebate.

It was believed the anticipated statement by the provincial relief department would clarify the issue. Hopes were entertained the announcement would materially lessen the load on the city, which, prior to the announcement of the decision, found itself in the anomalous position of paying a higher total towards relief disbursements while the actual number of those securing assistance was continually diminishing.

The bagpipe not only is widely used in Scotland, but also in Poland, Italy and southern France.

New Aerial Truck Arrives

Latest Type of Fire-fighting Apparatus Is Added to Victoria's Equipment; Preliminary Tests This Afternoon

The latest addition to Victoria's fire fighting apparatus—a $22,500 ladder truck—was unloaded this morning in the E. and N. yards on Store Street.

The new truck, the most modern of its kind built for fire fighting, will be placed in service in about a week.

The truck was brought here in a specially employed flat car, traveling across Canada from the Bickle Seagrave factories at Woodstock, Ontario. The new machine is a 240 horsepower Seagrave, with 12 cylinders and an overall length of 48 feet 8 inches.

The new truck is the only one of its kind in western Canada and represents the last word in fire-fighting apparatus. It is one of five used in various cities of Canada. Others are located at Quebec, Three Rivers, Forest Hills and Kitchener.

The unpacking this morning was witnessed by fire wardens of the city and officials of the manufacturing and shipping companies, including Robert Bickle of the Bickle Company, who came here from Woodstock.

A test of the new equipment is being made this afternoon at the rear of the fire hall.

The pride of the equipment which this truck carries is an 85 foot ladder, operated hydraulically which can be handled by one man. It is an all steel ladder and a marked improvement over the old one which required six men to operate it.

Combine Charge Inquiry Looms

Government Action Seen Likely on Allegations of Vernon Fruit Growers

An investigation into the marketing practices of the big fruit crop of the Okanagan was regarded at the Legislative Buildings as virtually certain today following charges made by Vernon growers that a huge combine exists.

The belief here is that such an inquiry would be launched by Ottawa but if the Dominion Government, for any reason, does not meet the demand of growers, provincial action may be taken.

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, said he would welcome a complete investigation of the charges if there was any justification for it.

"The complaint has not been laid before me yet so I cannot comment on any of the details. All I know now is what I have seen in the papers but I will be in Vernon on Monday and will look into the matter personally," Dr. MacDonald said.

With reference to the allegation that the Marketing Act works as a screen for a combine, Dr. MacDonald said he did not quite see how this would operate because the growers themselves, through the Marketing Board, controlled the prices within the province. However, only 10 per cent of the apple crop was sold within the province.

He said if there was anything to the charges it would prove what he had always contended in regard to marketing laws, that there should be control of inter-provincial trade.

"If there is anything wrong the sooner it is shown up the better," he said.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL STUDIES CHARGES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. G. S. Wismer, Attorney-General of British Columbia, today promised immediate study of charges by Dr. Godfrey Isaacs, O.Y.A.M.A. grower, that a jobber-ship combine exists in fruit and vegetable marketing of Western Canada.

"My department is working on it now," he said. "I will be back in Victoria Monday and naturally I will give it my full attention."

GROWERS SUPPORT

KELOWNA (CP)—A. K. Loyd, president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' association, said today that if charges made at a meeting of growers at Vernon were supported by necessary affidavits, the association would support an investigation.

"We have felt there has been something wrong with the fruit industry in certain channels, but not necessarily along the lines opened by Mr. Isaacs," Mr. Loyd said.

Tenders for construction of an all-steel ferry for Okanagan Lake will be opened by Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, tomorrow morning at 11. This is the third set of tenders called by the department for the ferry, which will operate between Kelowna and Westbank. The first two sets were for wooden hulls. The ferry will carry 30 cars.

Hemming, Gordon Standon, Frederick Burly, Arthur Jackson, E. Baxter and James Anderson acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

VETERANS SELECT PARLEY DELEGATES

At a special meeting of the local unit of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada held last evening four members were selected as delegates to represent the branch at the annual Dominion convention to open in Winnipeg September 19. The delegates chosen were Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, president; J. C. Rivers, secretary; S. Scarfe and H. G. Winter.

The delegates will carry a number of resolutions to the convention.

Following the meeting the members of the branch entertained the Ladysmith unit at a concert. A fine program was presented under the chairmanship of Charles Jasper. Two hundred and fifty members and guests were present. The following artists contributed to the program: Stan James, Tom Obee, Joe Dobie, Arthur Jackman, Jack Collins, R. C. Wright, Harry McAdam and A. Hedley. During the evening selections were rendered by Al Prescott and his orchestra. C. F. Boulter was pianist.

The parks committee is also anxious to secure action from the council on the request of the box lacrosse commission, which seeks consideration in the expenditure of a sum of money allocated by the Dominion Government through the provincial government for recreational activities in Victoria.

Patient Unharmful By Jump From Ship

The mental patient who jumped, handcuffed, from Ss. Princess Marguerite off Trial Island yesterday, suffered no ill effects from his immersion in the icy waters of the Strait, it was said this morning at the Wilkinson Road Mental Home to which he has been transferred from Essondale.

The jump of the 22-year-old man caused great excitement on the Princess Marguerite. Her passengers crowded the decks and marveled that the man could keep afloat by swimming on his back without free use of his arms. Great interest was displayed in the lowering of the lifeboat and the rescue of the patient.

There were two patients, each with an attendant aboard the ship.

Ladyfinger Grape Variety on Market

California grapes of various varieties were on the market at Wholesale Row today. Other shipments from California yesterday included a carload of oranges and a half car of lemons. A large shipment of bananas was also received. Shipments of Okanagan cantaloupes, pears and Rochester peaches are expected tomorrow.

"Business at our mountain hotels at Banff and Lake Louise is not so good this year," said T. E. Chester, assistant general manager of Canadian Pacific western hotels who arrived at the Empress yesterday from Winnipeg with Mrs. Chester.

"This decrease in business is due, no doubt to the recession in the United States. People this year seem to prefer the cheaper hotels. But we have to take the good with the bad. Travel goes in cycles and it will probably be up to normal again next year," Mr. Chester said.

Mrs. W. H. Rushton of Wigan, Lancashire, England, who is seeing Canada for the first time, arrived at the hotel this morning with her daughter, Mrs. Gerald Rushton of Vancouver.

"No, I didn't change my name when I married," Mrs. Rushton Jr. said. "I might say, too, my mother loves Canada but she is going home to England in mid-September. I felt she wouldn't have seen this country properly unless she came to Victoria."

M. C. Robinson, formerly of Victoria, and now head of the Institute for the Blind at Vancouver, came here today on business and to see his many local friends. Mrs. Robinson is with him.

Dr. William K. Detwiler and his wife of Seattle are in town to visit with his brother, F. K. Detwiler, well-known New York artist who is spending two weeks at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Detwiler.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Castle, prominent residents of Honolulu, reached the city today and met a number of friends who are also holidaying in Victoria.

Mme. Jeanne Feltzer, member of one of Belgium's oldest industrial families and widow of a former Belgian ambassador at Rio de Janeiro, signed her name on the guest list of the Empress Hotel this morning. Tomorrow she will sail by Ss. Empress of India.

Bennett Wins Two Matches

Victorian Advances in B.C. Junior Tennis Championships

VANCOUVER—"Hank" Bennett, husky 17-year-old Victorian, smashed his way through two matches in the boys' singles, under 18 years, in the British Columbia Junior tennis championships at Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club yesterday to take most prominent place in the R. B. Powell Trophy hunt.

W. Knotts, also Victorian, beat Vancouver's R. Thompson 3-6, 6-1, 6-6, in the same class, while J. McArthur, Victoria, lost out to K. Lee, Vancouver, 4-5, 6-1, 6-2, in the first round. Tony Staples, Duncan, lost to R. Paris, Vancouver, 6-2, 6-4, in the second after beating G. Rush 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, in the morning play.

Key Staples, Duncan court queen, won over Alice Urquhart, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-3, from a first round bye, to enter the semi-finals of the girls' singles, under 18. Paula Morris, Victoria, entered in both the under 18 and under 15 events, eliminated A. King in the first round and M. Noble in the second round, to take a prominent place in both classes. She won a bye in the under 15 event by virtue of her win last year.

Burrards Score Lacrosse Victory

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Burrards downed the Richmond Farmers 11 to 8 here last night in an Inter-city Box Lacrosse League game.

Burrards stepped into a 5 to 0 lead as they held the Lulu Island club scoreless through the first quarter, and never dropped behind. Richmond pulled up to within a point at the three-quarter mark but failed to overtake their Vancouver opponents.

Motherwell To Oppose Rangers

Two Strong Outfits Clash in Scottish Football Tomorrow

GLASGOW—Content to depend mainly on young recruits from junior ranks, Celtic proved its point in the opening game of the Scottish Football League to the satisfaction of hard-bitten critics. The champions swamped Kilmarnock under a 9 to 1 score and will go into the second week's play favorites to overcome Hamilton Academicals.

In pre-season gossip, shrewd guessers called "cocky" Celtic to win both league and cup championships. Of the 28 players on the roster, 20 have been recruited from minor leagues.

Celtic this week plays the Accies, who opened the season with a 2 to 2 draw at Edinburgh against Hibernians.

Glasgow Rangers, who participated in 13 tie games last year and finished in third position behind Celtic and Hearts, will be at home tomorrow to the strong Motherwell eleven. In opening contests, Rangers drew 3 to 3 at St. Johnstone and Motherwell outlasted Queen of the South to win 8 to 5.

GOOD MATCH
One of the best contests is scheduled for Edinburgh, where Hearts will entertain Falkirk. The visitors have been molded into one of the strongest teams in the country in the past two years and have finished well up with leaders in standings. They finished fourth last year.

Promoted to the first division this year, Raith Rovers and Albion Rovers dropped their contests by one-goal margins. Ayr United edged out Raith, 2 to 1, and Arbroath, one of the strongest "home" teams in major football, downed Albion by a 3 to 2 score. Raith will make its second start against Partick Thistle, and Albion will entertain St. Johnstone.

Another match between two evenly matched clubs will be staged at Pittodrie Park, home of Aberdeen, with Third Lanark providing the opposition. Clyde will meet Ayr, Kilmarnock will host Hibernians, Arbroath will visit Queen of South and Queen's Park will be at home to St. Mirren to complete the 10-game schedule.

place Sacramento Senators under a 19-hit barrage to win a lopsided 13 to 4 victory last night. The defeat pushed Solons three and a half games behind the league-leading Los Angeles Angels who trimmed San Diego Padres 6 to 2 and enabled Seattle to displace them in fourth place. San Francisco's usually hard hitting Solons remained in third place despite being out-hit and outscored by the slumping Portland Beavers. Scoring in the second, fifth, sixth and seventh innings, Beavers won handily, 4 to 1.

The Hollywood stars shone for the third straight time by dumping the cellar Oakland A's, 7 to 5. They hammered the offerings of three Oakland pitchers for 13 hits.

drive O'Connor in and on a wild pitch by Tesky, Munn scooted over the plate. Baker was the fourth runner to score. Murray's hit gave him the opportunity.

But the Longshoremen refused to be discouraged by the big margin facing them and in the first of the third came back with a trio of markers to even the count at 5 to 5. Restell completed the circuit on Palmer's single and Knapp crossed the plate on a wild pitch. Emery booted Dunnett's hit and in came Palmer.

CAMERONS THREE UP
In the last of the fourth Camerons climbed into the lead again by two runs, Murray scoring on Munn's sacrifice and Emery's two-bagger giving Johnson the chance to make home. McLeellan's two-bagger sent Dale home in the next frame to give the lumbermen a three-run margin, which was cut to two by Erikson, who hit to centre field to bring in Restell. Harris hit to score Baker in the eighth to finish the lumbermen's scoring.

Three runs down in the first of the ninth the losers made another attempt at a last-minute comeback. First off Erikson, shortstop, poled out a homer to advance his team a notch closer to their opponents. Then one batter was retired. Robinson socked out a two-base hit and Constable got him to third on a ground out. Dunnett came up to bat, got two strikes, connected with the third but was put out at first.

Margaret Sullivan and James Stewart Play in "The Shopworn Angel"

The dramatic story of a woman who sacrifices her love for one man so that she might send another away to the war with a beautiful memory without shattering his ideals, is the stirring theme of "The Shopworn Angel," starring Margaret Sullivan and James Stewart at the Capitol Theatre.

Miss Sullivan brilliantly portrays the role of a gold-digging showgirl who marries the young, naive soldier, James Stewart, because she wants him to go to France with a memory and also because he is the first man who has ever looked upon her as a fine woman. Her other sweetheart is Walter Pidgeon, the dashing man-about-town, who knows and loves her for what she is.

"Crime Partners" Will Open Monday

When a newspaperman and a private detective dive into politics to avert the tide of a city election, there is bound to be some laughs in the outcome; and there are laughs and shudders both in "Partners in Crime," the new Lynne Overman-Roscoe Karns picture which opens next Monday at the Plaza Theatre.

Rudolph Valentino in "Son of the Sheik" will be the second picture of the program.

Dominion Shows "Fast Company"

Splendid Cast in Gripping Mystery Drama Which Opens Here Today

Romance and adventure are combined with hilarious results in "Fast Company," new mystery drama which opened today at the Dominion Theatre and reveals the inside of the stolen rare book racket.

Melvyn Douglas, Florence Rice, Claire Dodd, Shepherd Sturdivant, Louis Calhern, Nat Pendleton and Douglas Dumbrille are featured in the cast of capable performers.

"Fast Company" is an unusual background for a mystery drama revealing the activities of racketeers who steal and duplicate rare volumes that are sold for enormous prices.

PLAZA THEATRE

Mara Loeffel's attractive "continental" accent will be found one of the most appealing things in "The Sky's the Limit," the Jack Buchanan musical at the Plaza Theatre. While the beautiful Russian singer is very keen to improve her English, and is doing so, actually, very fast, her present slight difficulty with the language has a charm one will be a little sorry to miss.

A new star has arisen in the meteoric fashion of the screen and partners Vivien Leigh in his first big part in Victor Saville's latest film "Storm in a Teacup," which is at the Oak Bay Theatre today.

The new personality is Rex Harrison, whose only previous film role of importance was as the boisterous newspaperman in "Men Are Not Gods."

British Timber Group Lands

Party Coming to Inspect B.C.'s Resources Reach Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—Accompanied by W. A. McAdam, London acting Agent-General for British Columbia, and J. C. Berto, the province's assistant timber commissioner, 35 leading timber trade representatives from Great Britain and France arrived here today by the liner Empress of Australia.

The party will proceed to British Columbia where, as guests of Premier T. D. Pattullo, they will spend 10 days examining the province's timber lands and lumber resources.

McAdam told reporters British Columbia's policy of cultivating markets by personal contacts had proved "very successful" in Britain.

"I know of nothing more remarkable in inter-imperial trade," he said, "than the advance made by British Columbia lumber in the United Kingdom during the last five years. From 100,000,000 feet board measure in 1932, it has moved up to 600,000,000 in 1937 and still is growing."

Response of the timbermen to Premier Pattullo's invitation, he said, was "eloquent of the position British Columbia has established for itself in the British market."

E. P. Tetsall, former president of the Timber Trade Federation of the United Kingdom, said the visitors had accepted British Columbia's invitation "to see for ourselves the great forests, resources, manufacturing facilities and the ability to supply a large share of the requirements of our market."

"If, as a result of our visit and the discussions that ensue, the object of the government can be advanced, we shall be very happy," he said.

Noted Jurists Given Degrees

Sir L. P. Duff, Lord Finlay and Sen. Farris Honored at U.B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Clad in the robes of their universities, four leaders of the English, Canadian and American bar, already the possessors of many academic awards, received honorary degrees from the University of British Columbia at a special congregation today.

Chief Justice Sir Lyman P. Duff, acting Governor-General; Viscount Finlay, K.B.E., of England; Hon. Arthur T. Vanderbilt, representative of the American Bar Association, and Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., were the recipients.

Dr. R. E. McKechnie, chancellor of the university, awarded the degrees. In his opening address on the problems of the university, he declared that despite hardships such as overcrowding of students and other troubles, the institution had now its place in the first rank of universities.

He felt that authorities would realize the problems facing U.B.C. and would remedy them. A school of medicine can wait, he said, suggesting that more pressing matters were involved.

M'GEER FAVORS ROYAL VISIT

VANCOUVER (CP)—G. G. McGeer, K.C., Liberal member of Parliament for Vancouver-Burrard and former Vancouver mayor, thinks it would be a "wonderful thing" if King George and Queen Elizabeth visited this city.

At a meeting of the Vancouver Tourist Association last night, McGeer said he was "sure" the monarchs would visit Canada, but "we want 'em out in Vancouver."

"Their visit could certainly bring about a feeling of unity between this country and the United States," he said. "Ships from British and American navies could accompany them up the coast from the Panama Canal. They could visit the World's Fair in New York."

"It would certainly be a wonderful thing."

Option on Stock

TORONTO (CP)—The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited has secured an option on treasury stock of the Barber Larder Gold Mines Limited and will finance underground development work on the company's property in the Larder Lake area, according to an announcement by the Barber Larder Company.

ZEBALLOS NOW HAS SCHOOL BOARD

ZEBALLOS, B.C. (CP)—This West Coast of Vancouver Island gold mining town now has a school board.

Capt. Ralph Thistle was elected chairman at a recent meeting of property owners. Other members are Les. R. Brown and Mrs. Frank Joubin, who will act as secretary.

Efforts will be made to arrange for a school this autumn.

HERBERT HALL DIED TODAY

Well-known Arctic Fur Trader Was Educated in Victoria

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Herbert Hanley Hall, 57, prominent Arctic fur trader and son of the late R. H. Hall, one-time Hudson's Bay Company fur trade commissioner for Canada, died in hospital here last night.

Mr. Hall was brought to Churchill on the Nasopie from one of his trading posts on Hudson Straits and arrived in Prince Albert by train August 11.

His illness followed an accident suffered last May when his dog team ran away, throwing him on the ice some 50 miles from one of his posts. Without communication with the outside world, he was unable to come out for treatment until the Nasopie called at Churchill a few weeks ago.

Mr. Hall had been in the far north since he was 18 and in the service of the Hudson's Bay Company since he was 25. He had been manager of the company's most important posts and was district manager of the western Arctic when he severed his connections with the company in 1922 to establish several of his own posts in Hudson Straits.

Known from Alaska across the Arctic to the Atlantic coast, Mr. Hall had traveled the width and breadth of the Arctic wastes.

Born in Port Simpson, B.C., he was educated in Victoria, where he spent his early youth. He is survived by two brothers, D. A. Hall, member for Athabasca in the Saskatchewan Legislature since 1912, and R. H. Hall, chartered accountant, Prince Albert. One sister, Caroline, is en route from Europe, where she spent the past year.

T. H. Hall, managing director of the General Accident Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an uncle. The late Sheriff Hall of Vancouver was an uncle. Burial will take place at Prince Albert.

Tension May Be Relieved

LONDON (CP-Havas)—A "long and lengthening" list of British grievances against Japan is the basis for newly resumed Anglo-Nipponese diplomatic talks which may bring a welcome relief to tension between London and Tokyo, The Times (Independent) declared today.

In an editorial on the meeting in Tokyo Thursday between British Ambassador Sir Robert Craigie and Foreign Minister Kazushige Ugaki, The Times described Ugaki as "man of strong character but mellow temperament, an able and respected soldier and administrator" who has steadily maintained a conciliatory attitude toward Great Britain.

"Since he took office a few months ago the Foreign Minister has emphasized the urgent need for an improvement in Anglo-Japanese relations," The Times said.

Despite the Japanese government's avowals during the past three and a half months, of a friendly policy toward Britain, The Times said, however, "the situation with regard to British and other French interests in China has continued steadily to deteriorate."

"In none of these cases—which involve many million pounds of British capital—is the Japanese action justifiable on grounds of military necessity or any other grounds, and action is to be taken and finally exclude British enterprise from China, leaving Japan a free hand in the field."

"It is becoming daily clearer that Japan is feeling the financial burden of the war. Russia had given her a nasty shock. Germany and Italy, her ideological allies, seem unlikely to comfort her with anything more concrete than slogans. Her armies at the front are bogged."

"She appears, in fine, to be within a measurable distance of getting out of her depth. It can be hoped though it may not be expected, that the nation's leaders will not only give serious thought to the outstanding Anglo-Japanese problems, but will take action to settle at least some of them."

Wheat Scores Slight Gains

WINNIPEG (CP)—A closing spurt that carried Winnipeg wheat prices from fractionally lower levels up to slight gains featured a drab session today.

Ten minutes before the close prices advanced $\frac{1}{8}$ cent to the day's top level. At the close quotations were $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, with October 67 $\frac{1}{2}$, November 67 $\frac{1}{4}$, December 67 $\frac{1}{4}$, May 70 $\frac{1}{4}$.

Trading was dormant except for an occasional flurry. United States did some buying in connection with intermarket spreading, but it was of small consequence.

Export business was estimated at about 150,000 bushels. At low levels, Winnipeg prices were $\frac{1}{8}$ cent below yesterday's close.

Liverpool closed $\frac{1}{4}$ lower and Buenos Aires was $\frac{1}{8}$ cent higher at noon.

Cash wheat demand again was indifferent, with durums about $\frac{1}{4}$ cent down at low levels. Spreads on top northern grades were generally unchanged.

Coarse grain trading in the pit was dull with rye lower and other grains steady.

Argentine wheat shipments for the week totalled 394,000 bushels against 1,029,000 last week and 853,000 a year ago.

BONDS

NEW YORK (AP)—A dull and narrow bond market had for its chief feature today, a sharp upturn in a small group of rails and New York City traction issues.

Bonds of Mobile and Ohio Railroad gained $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ points in response to reports of agreement on terms on the long pending merger involving that road and the Gulf, Mobile and North.

U.S. governments and foreign loans showed minor changes in slow trade.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned on its rallying steam in the latter part of today's session and leading issues, paced by the rails, pushed up fractions to three points.

The forward swing followed word from Washington that the Association of American Railroads would have an "important" announcement to make before the close. Wall Street immediately jumped to the conclusion this might mean a wage cut compromise. Buyers got aboard the carrier stocks and other groups joined the excursion. There was a let-down near the finish when the A.A.R. disclosed it had merely filed a petition for the extension of coal rate increases.

While volume broadened, it was not sufficient to put the ticker tape behind and, in the closing hour, momentum died down considerably and extreme gains were reduced substantially. Transfers were around 800,000 shares, almost double yesterday's turnover.

Business news, on the whole, continued as a moderately buoyant influence and did much to halt the light selling which handicapped the list Thursday.

Steels and motors, somewhat backward in early proceedings, joined other industrials in the belated climb, but most backed away at the last.

A jump of more than 10,000 units in this week's automobile output aided the motors as well as the steels.

Commodities improved. Wheat at Chicago was up $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ cent a bushel and corn advanced $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ cent. Cotton, in late transactions, was up $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ cents a bale.

Sterling, near mid-afternoon, was up $\frac{1}{8}$ of a cent at 4.88 and the French franc was $\frac{1}{8}$ of a cent higher at 2.73 cents.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:
Thirty industrials, 141.13, up 1.80.
Twenty rails, 28.31, up 0.61.
Fifteen utilities, 19.75, up 0.11.
Forty bonds, 88.89, up 0.06.
Total sales—830,000.

A "Lost City" in Cambodia

V—FOUR-FACED GODS

The ancient Romans used to have a two-faced god named Janus, who was supposed to look backward and forward at the same time.

The Hindus of India did better than that. They told of gods with four faces apiece! Such a god could look north, south, east and west at the same time.

Part of a four-faced statue in the Bayon.

It was the old Hindu custom to make statues of Brahma with four faces. Brahma is one of the three main gods of the Hindu religion, for a time people thought he was the most important of all. Later they gave just as much honor to Vishnu and Siva, sometimes more.

The Khmers who built Angkor Thom, and ruled Cambodia for a long time, were followers of the Hindu religion for several centuries. Among the remains of the great city today we find more than 50 giant statues, each with four faces. Some say they represent Brahma, but others call them images of Siva.

The temple with the four-faced statues is known as the Bayon. It is at the exact center of the city, and the statues look in the four directions, toward four of the gateways in the city walls. There was a fifth gate in the walls, but it was not for use by the plain people. Only the king could pass through that fifth gate.

As I have said before, we are not certain why Angkor Thom was deserted about 500 years ago. I have suggested that it may have been visited by a plague. So many people in it may have died that the rest fled.

Another possible reason is that the people fled to escape from the Siamese. The Khmers had strong armies for a long time, but at length suffered defeat when they met Siamese soldiers who had invaded Cambodia. If this was why Angkor Thom was deserted, it seems strange that the Siamese did not settle in such a splendid city.

Before the life of Angkor Thom came to an end, the people changed their faith to Buddhism. This faith still is widespread in Cambodia.

Yellow-robed Buddhist priests have taken up quarters near the remains of temples in and near Angkor Thom. They serve as guides to visitors who come from many parts of the world to look upon the Grand Capital of the old Khmers.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Our daughter, who has recently divorced her husband, has come home to live with us, bringing her four children. So far the children's father has not contributed a cent to their support, although they have been with us two years. This comes very hard upon us, as we are in our 70s and have a very limited income. At our age we also crave peace and quiet and we find the noise and restlessness of the children very disturbing. Just how much are parents and grandparents obligated to their children?

SEVENTYFISH.

Answer: It is idle to discuss what parents owe their children and how long they should sacrifice themselves to them, because the heart instead of the head settles the matter, and just so long as the children have need, just that long will fathers and mothers give to them.

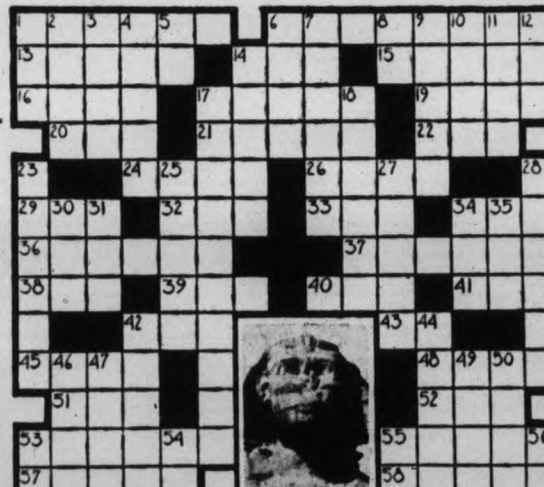

You may say that when a child comes to a man's estate he should stand on his own feet. He should earn his own living. He should meet his own responsibilities. His father and mother have done their duty toward him by feeding and clothing and educating him and he should not lay his burdens on the old shoulders. True enough. But let the child be an distress and the parents do not balance accounts with him. They open their doors to the prodigal. They mortgage their home to help the shiftless. They divide their last crust with the hungry.

That is what you have done in taking in your daughter and her children when she left her husband. You had no legal obligation to do so, but you had the obligation of love which you could not refuse. So you are dividing your scanty income with her and having the peace of your old age broken up.

I often think that the chief sufferers in a divorce, when a disgruntled wife leaves her husband and goes back home with her children, are the old parents who have to assume burdens for which they are not fitted at their age. It seems to me that in common humanity a woman might keep on with a marriage, even if she was not ideally happy in it, rather than force her old father to go back to work to support another family and for her old mother to be turned into a nursemaid.

DOROTHY DIX.

English Lumber Men Bound Here

MONTREAL—Guests of the government of British Columbia and coming to Canada for an "inside look" at west coast lumbering, a group of more than 30 leading representatives of the British timber industry arrived in Quebec today on the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Australia.

W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general for British Columbia in London, heads the party, the members of which will spend 10 days in British Columbia as guests. They will return by way of Banff and Lake Louise, arriving again in Montreal, September 9, to sail a few days later for home.

Three Others Who Missed Ship in Vancouver Turned Over to Immigration Men

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three British seamen of H.M.S. York "missed the boat" when their vessel sailed yesterday for Comox, on Vancouver Island.

Last night they appeared at police headquarters. They told officers they had no money.

The men were handed over to Canadian immigration authorities who are holding them pending arrangements for their return to their ship.

Two other men from the ship are believed to have deserted, police said. Their uniforms were found in a rooming house here.

Early American settlers encountered three types of bison, which ranged respectively over plain, woodland, and mountain.

Veteran Crosses Canada to Fish

WINNIPEG—In his 93rd year, Samuel Phipps, Vancouver, retired Canadian Pacific Railway master mechanic with 55 years of railway service to his credit, told a tall fish story to other old-timers in the railway who met him here on his way home from a fishing trip to Kenora, Ont.

At the train at the Winnipeg C.P.R. station, he was met by R. A. Pyne, superintendent of motive power, western lines; S. J. Davies, motive power chief clerk; T. W. Lowe, retired boiler inspector; H. L. Low, H. Stewart, retired dispatcher, and others who broke into "Auld Lang Syne" as the train pulled out for Vancouver.

Mr. Phipps, who celebrated his 92nd birthday, June 17, this year, has been visiting his daughter, granddaughter and great granddaughter during his holiday at Lake of the Woods.

Mr. Phipps was master mechanic in Vancouver from 1907 until his retirement in 1913 sharing an office with the late W. H. "Bilby" Evans, pioneer, who drove the first car locomotive into Port Moody when the transcontinental line was opened, and whose death occurred last week.

Accompanied by three of his board of directors, S. J. Hungerford, chairman and president, Canadian National Railways, president, Trans-Canada Air Lines, will arrive in Vancouver at 9:30 a.m. Monday, on St. Prince Rupert from Prince Rupert.

The directors with him are R. J. Moffat, Bradwell, Sask.; Charles H. Read, Amberst, N.S.; and B. L. Daly, Montreal. A. E. Warren, vice-president, western region, is also traveling with the party. Accompanying them through British Columbia is W. T. Moodie, general superintendent, B.C. district.

As guests of the Board of Trade they will attend the luncheon Monday noon at which Brigadier-General Sir Henry Page-Croft will speak. Sir Henry will be a fellow passenger on St. Prince Rupert with Mr. Hungerford and party this weekend.

During his stay on the coast Mr. Hungerford will visit Victoria and the Okanagan Valley.

Harvesting Is Resumed

WINNIPEG—Cutting, halted by rains, is on full swing over the three prairie provinces, according to the weekly report from the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Though harvesting operations were suspended in many parts of the western wheat and grain belt by general light to heavy showers during the week, great benefit has resulted in the filling of late grains in Saskatchewan and Alberta and adding to the much-needed reserve moisture as well as in improving fodder crops.

Northeastern, west and northwestern Manitoba profited also by rain.

According to this estimate obtained from the railways' agents throughout the west, 87 per cent of Manitoba's wheat is already cut as against 83 per cent the same time last year; 75 per cent of oats and 88 per cent of barley. In Saskatchewan 44 per cent has been cut and harvesting is general at practically all points, with oats and barley going daily under the knife.

Aside from the Peace River district, approximately 18 per cent of the wheat is cut with the greatest headway evident in the southern part of the C.P.R. main line. Central and northern sections of Alberta would benefit by a period of clear, dry weather. Manitoba yields are reported in many cases higher than was expected and general returns are encouraging.

Peace River grain has filled out better than was expected, and with favorable weather, after a period of cool, wet conditions, harvesting operations should be general by the beginning of next week.

Good quality peaches, pears and plums continue to come out of British Columbia, and Wealthy apples are on the market at Penicton in the Okanagan Valley. Later apples are sizing well, and recent rains have improved the color. Vegetable crops are reported in good condition and tomato canning will likely begin the end of this week. Rains have helped pasturage and root crops, and will improve the third crop of alfalfa.
